NINE SLAYERS PAY PENALTY WITH LIVES

Six Hanged for Murder 3 Years Ago in Louisiana

LED TO DEATH IN PAIRS

Three Men Are Executed in Kentucky

(BULLETIN)
ANITE, La.—(Associated Press)—The hanging of six Italians for the murder three years ago of Dallas James, began at 11:55 a. m. Friday. Those to be executed were Joseph Bocchio and Andrea Lamanita of Chicago; Joseph Giglio and Roy Dea of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Natale Deamore and Joseph Rini, of New Orleans.

TANGIPAHOA PARISH JAIL, LA.—(Associated Press)—The death march of six Italians to the gallows for the murder of Dallas James, began at 11:55 a. m. Friday. Those to be executed were Joseph Bocchio and Andrea Lamanita of Chicago; Joseph Giglio and Roy Dea of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Natale Deamore and Joseph Rini, of New Orleans.

Deamore was led from the cell at 11:55 a. m. accompanied by a priest. The order of execution was changed and Dea went to the scaffold with Rini. The priest stood with his hand on Dea's shoulder while a second priest was beside Deamore. The executioner put the noose around Dea's neck and adjusted the black cap.

The same procedure was gone through for Deamore. The double trap was sprung at 12:01 p. m. The men apparently died instantly. Under the law they were to hang for 20 minutes.

Giglio and Rini were led out of their cells at 12:12 accompanied by two priests.

As he was led to the scaffold Deamore said:

"I am going to heaven."
As the mask was being adjusted he cried "They hang me!" They "hang me!"

DEPUTY KISSED
Leona kissed a New Orleans deputy before he was led to the gallows.

The second pair and the escort led in the inner corridor pending removal of the bodies of Leona and Deamore.

As Rini and Giglio started down the stairs from the cell to the lower level, one of the two remaining prisoners began to shout wildly. Jailers quickly quieted him.

Rini and Giglio, after a few minutes of waiting began to pace back and forth. Both apparently were determined to die peacefully.

Leona stated himself with a knife under the right shoulder blade, inflicting only a few scratches.

The traps were placed in position for the second pair at 12:25 p. m. Rini and Giglio were returned to their cells. Bocchio and Lamanita were brought out. Bocchio and Lamanita mounted the platform as the nooses were completed.

Bocchio had to be supported as he was placed on the trap. Lamanita apparently was unconscious as he was carried to the scaffold.

A chair was placed on the trap and Bocchio stood on it. A priest held him as he said a prayer. Bocchio died virtually in a state of coma and he collapsed early today.

The trap was sprung at 12:37 p. m. A chair fell thru the trap and Lamanita seated in it.

The priest standing over the traps and prayers. The second pair apparently died instantly.

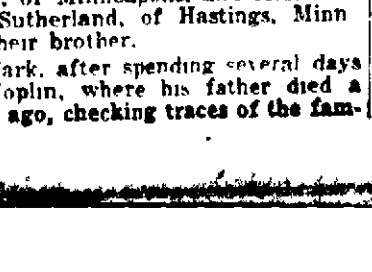

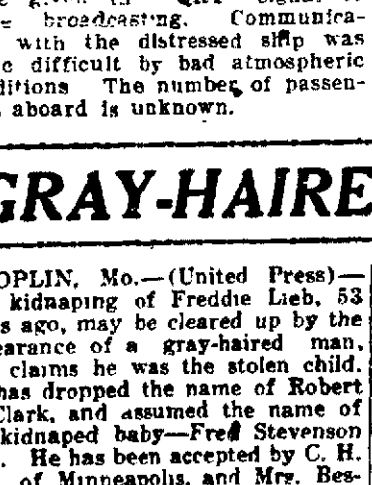

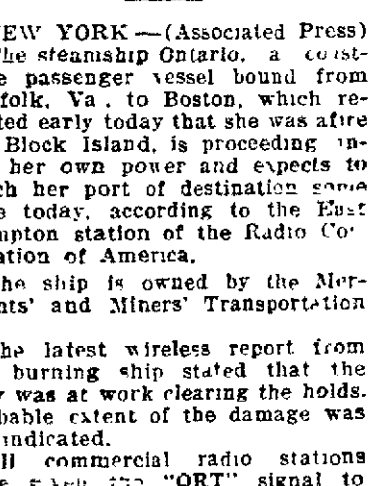

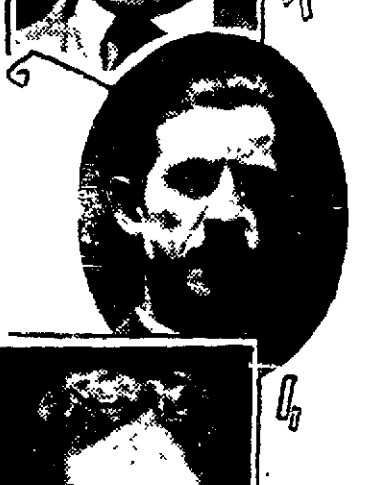

Lamanita and Bocchio were pronounced dead at 12:44 and 12:45 p. m.

Waiting their turn Rini and Giglio stepped up and down in their cell, Rini giving the clatter of a telephone instrument in the cupola above, wanted to know what it was. "Newspaper," said Jailor Johnson.

Have they sent out the news that we were hanged?" asked Rini.

"No," replied Johnson. "They have not done it."

DIE ON GALLOWS

BLIND TURN BLAMED FOR WRECK HERE

Noted Indianapolis Motorist and Sister in Accident

SCHOOL GIRL IS INJURED

Arm is Broken When Motor Car Hits Her on Way Home

William L. Esterly, 54, Indianapolis, Ind., and his sister, Mrs. Stanley E. Douglas, 106 Rosalind, Toledo, narrowly escaped death late Thursday when the automobile he was driving skidded off a blind turn near Bluffton on the Dixie highway and crashed against a telephone pole.

Esterly was hurled from the automobile and his left leg was broken just above the ankle. His sister was held in the automobile by the steering wheel and was only slightly bruised. They were picked up by a passing motorist and taken to City hospital where their injuries were given attention.

The automobile, owned by Joseph J. Cole of Indianapolis, was to have been used as pacemaker in the Memorial Day 500 mile race at the Indianapolis speedway and Esterly was to have driven it. He was "breaking it in" on this trip. The auto is said to be practically a total wreck.

Esterly has been visiting the various automotive centers in an effort to learn the relationship between the Indianapolis speedway and the recent progress in the automotive industry. Information compiled was to have been made the subject matter of a speech to be delivered at a dinner on the evening of May 23 at which James A. Allison, Carl Fisher and Arthur Newby, good roads leaders, are to be guests of the Hoosier chambers of commerce.

VISIT FRIENDS
As Esterly passed thru Toledo he persuaded his sister to make a portion of the trip with him. They visited friends and after a day at Akron started for Lima where she was to take the B. & O. train for home. They were bent on arriving in Lima before this train left when the accident occurred.

There was a slight drizzle and this seemed to obscure the roadway to a certain extent. As they approached the right turn, which lies about three miles southwest of Bluffton, they failed to see it until they were right upon it, Esterly says.

At this place the road turns sharply and passes over the line of the Western Ohio interurban railway. Esterly tried to make the turn but the rear tires skidded on the wet rails and the automobile swung around and crashed into a pole at the side of the road.

Both were dazed by the shock. The automobile did not turn over but the force of the blow had thrown Esterly out into a small ditch along the roadway. He called to his sister and she answered him.

Two unidentified men in a small automobile came along and offered to take Esterly to the hospital. They would not have had room for Mrs. Douglas. Just then a Richmond, Ind., automobile dealer, asking for a driveway thru from Detroit came along and picked up both the brother and sister and hurried them to the city hospital. There they were given medical attention. Mrs. Douglas was able to be up and around the hospital.

Early Friday morning announced he would be ready to drive the pace making car at the big race. His fractured leg is not considered to be a serious injury and he is expected to be out on crutches very soon. Until factory representatives reach Lima it will not be known whether the automobile can be repaired or not.

Both Esterly and his sister are at a loss to know how it was possible for them to pass thru an accident.

"HAM" DROPS IN!

James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, the only an ex-senator now, is a frequent visitor in Washington. Here he is (right) chatting with his old fellow-lawmaker, Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama. Ex-Senator "Jim Ham" is credited with the finest set of "pink whiskers" in Democratic politics.

FORMER PROHIBITION AGENT IS ON TRIAL

YOUNGSTOWN—Testimony was begun today in the trial of John N. Carrothers, former prohibition agent, on charge of bribing an officer. Carrothers pleaded guilty to bribing W. H. Wilson, a former driver, but when he came up for sentence he contended he had pleaded guilty to merely bribing a witness, while the state claimed he had pleaded to bribing an officer. The court allowed Carrothers to withdraw the plea and stand trial.

TAMMANY RULED BY COMMITTEE

New Body Will Select Successor to Charles Murphy

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—A committee of seven, including three women, rules Tammany Hall today and will remain in power until they have selected a successor to the late Charles F. Murphy.

Created at the meeting of the executive committee yesterday by a resolution which held that the members of the special committee should "perform the duties formerly discharged by the Honorable Charles F. Murphy," the members, who represent every section of Manhattan and Harlem, will hold meetings in Tammany Hall tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday to sift the capabilities and merits of district leaders favorably mentioned for leadership.

A veteran Tammany leader, Frank J. Goodwin, for many years a close friend of Murphy's and mentioned for the vacant post, is chairman of the special committee.

The birth of the committee followed the definite refusal of Surrogate James A. Foley, son-in-law of the late chief, to accept the post, although he had the endorsement of Governor Smith and the support of many district leaders.

AMBULANCE PLANE USED BY BRITISH AIR FORCE

BRISTOL—The Royal Medical Air Force has just had built a new ambulance plane with a cruising speed of 80 miles an hour and free from any form of vibration. Painted white with the ordinary red cross on its side, it has a cabin 10 feet 6 inches long, 5 feet 9 inches wide, and 4 feet high.

NEW PAVEMENT CRACKED, PROPERTY OWNERS CLAIM

MORGAN REFUSES TO TALK ON GERMAN LOAN

NEW YORK — If J. P. Morgan has entered into definite negotiations concerning a loan of $100,000,000 by American bankers to Germany to help rehabilitate that country he is not ready to talk about it or give the outline of the deal to the public.

The banker arrived yesterday after an absence of several months in Europe.

Speaking of the proposed German loan, Morgan said "much as I would like to go into this matter it is obvious that my usefulness hinges on silence at this time."

Disintegration of two and half miles of paving on St. Johns-Rd south of the city was called to attention of the county commissioners Friday in a letter from the Lima Automobile club.

The communication was sent to the commissioners after a number of property owners, among whom was A. C. Rousculp, reported that the road is going to pieces.

The improvement was completed about one year ago by the Andrews Asphalt Paving Co. It was built entirely by the county at an expense of approximately $50,000.

Holes and cracks have developed in the surface over winter. This road is waterbound macadam base with a course of Willite asphalt for a wearing surface.

Unless repaired or taken care of in the near future the pavement will soon deteriorate, it is feared.

Beside the letter written to the commissioners several complaints have been made in person by farmers.

MANY HOLES
The surface of the road is very badly cracked in places. Along the edges, holes and depressions have developed from the road breaking away under weight of traffic.

Several theories are advanced by James I. Heffner, secretary of the automobile club for the condition of the road.

Part of the trouble, his investigations show, is due to too weak a base, he believes and improper drainage.

He also is of the opinion that the surface material is too thin and brittle, causing it to crack open. These cracks will gradually become larger and develop into holes.

Heffner requests the commissioners to make an investigation at once in conjunction with representatives of the automobile club and local newspapers to learn what can be done to place the road in good condition.

Commissioners, it is said, claim there is a five year guarantee on the road, but it is doubtful if a maintenance bond was filed by the Andrews company. The automobile club is demanding that action be taken to compel the contractors to repair the road.

LETTER SENT
A copy of the letter sent the commissioners follows:

"We desire to call your attention to the deplorable condition of the St. Johns-Rd that was constructed late last year.

"Our attention having been called to this improvement by property owners along this road, we trust that you will take immediate steps to force the contractors to place this road in good repair.

"We were glad to know that you had been out looking the road over, noting the number of holes that had developed and the cracks which show the deterioration of this improvement."

"We would suggest that your honorable body, with the county surveyor, representatives from the newspapers and the Lima Automobile club make an investigation of this improvement with respect to the holes and cracks that have developed in the short time this road has been completed."

IMPROVEMENTS
Three resolutions for the improvement of roads at the expense of the county were approved by the county commissioners Friday.

The roads are one mile of the Lincoln highway thru Gomer, three miles of the Lincoln highway thru Gomer and Delphos jobs last year. Spencerville-Rd is already paved with concrete. Holes in the concrete were repaired last fall, and the pavement will be resurfaced with the material specified.

Money for the improvements will be appropriated from the county exempted road fund.

Plans, estimated cost and specifications are to be prepared by Ed Smith, county surveyor.

ROScoe C. McCulloch IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

CANTON—Roscoe C. McCulloch, of Canton, announced Friday that he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor at the August primaries.

Former Congressman McCulloch, in making the announcement of his candidacy, said that he would start at once upon an active campaign for nomination and that he would visit every part of the state.

PASSENGER SHIP IS AFIRE

Burning Steamer Racing to Boston Port, Radio Messages Say

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—The steamship Ontario, a coastwise passenger vessel bound from Norfolk, Va., to Boston, which reported early today that she was afire off Block Island, is proceeding under her own power and expects to reach her port of destination sometime today, according to the East Hampton station of the Radio Corporation of America.

The ship is owned by the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Co.

The latest wireless report from the burning ship stated that the crew was at work clearing the holds. Probable extent of the damage was not indicated.

All commercial radio stations were given the "QRT" signal to cease broadcasting. Communication with the distressed ship was made difficult by bad atmospheric conditions. The number of passengers aboard is unknown.

The ship is owned by the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Co.

GRAY-HAIRED MAN IDENTIFIED BY MOLES AS KIDNAPED BABY

JOPLIN, Mo.—(United Press)—The kidnapping of Freddie Lieb, 53 years old, may be cleared up by the appearance of a gray-haired man, who claims he was the stolen child.

He has dropped the name of Robert C. Clark, and assumed the name of a music professor, was in Chicago, arranging a contract for singing in church.

He has been accepted by C. H. Lieb, of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Besie Sutherland, of Hastings, Minn. as their brother.

Clark, after spending several days in Joplin, where his father died a year ago, checking traces of the family, left today for Minneapolis.

Freddie Lieb was kidnapped when five years old. He had toddled from his home in Quincy, Ill., to a nearby carriage yard to play. He never returned. At the time his father, a music professor, was in Chicago, arranging a contract for singing in church.

The distracted and hysterical mother waited a day and then sent this message:

"Freddie missing since 7 last night. No trace of him. Come at once."

RUSSIA ASKED TO DITCH SOVIETISM

Change Demanded in Name of Business Relations

PARLEY IS ON IN LONDON

Moscow Agents, However, Balk
at the Proposition

LONDON — (United Press) — A modest little hotel, accustomed to calm and placid procedure by its regular occupants, but now packed with an atmosphere of tension and of feverish activity.

A modest little hotel, quiet and unpretentious, rather obscure, in fact, tucked away unobtrusively on the east side of a park, pleasant enough, and perfectly respectable, this little hotel, but far from away. Just a decent little place.

But now the quiet little place is all cluttered up with preparations for big league stuff—the big leagues of baseball and diplomacy. The Russian delegates to the London conference are quartered in the quiet little place. They work there and they sleep there, when they aren't over at the Foreign office trying to reach an agreement with Great Britain regarding the relations of the two great regions of the earth that are ruled by labor governments.

The stage has been set, in the quiet little hotel, for a vital scene in one of the world's greatest political dramas.

PLAYING FOR BIG STAKES

As the Russians play this art evolved, formulated and rehearsed in their modest little hotel they will influence directly or indirectly, the attitude toward Russia of the United States and Japan, they will prepare the way for getting a big chunk of British trade, or they will make the way even more difficult than it is now, they will win or they will lose what Premier MacDonald has indicated is the last chance for a long, long time of an Anglo-Russian agreement.

So, no wonder there is an atmosphere of reserve, of suspicion, of super-caution in the modest little hotel now—where before there was never anything more subtle or mysterious than retired army officers.

The McDonald Labor Government's de jure recognition of Russia, a few months ago, had almost no direct influence upon actual trade between the two countries. The present Anglo-Russian conference in London seeks to establish Russian loans and credits, where British goods may be purchased.

Because other rehearsals are under way in other parts of London, do—and the Russians know that—and they are on their guard—will who come to the modest little hotel must prove themselves. Some of the other rehearsals take place down in the "City"—which is in London as Wall Street, and more, is in New York. Some take place in the political rallying-places of the conservative and other political leaders. Some take place in the editorial councils of the powerful publishing groups. They all seek the same objective—the failure of the conference, save upon one condition—that the Soviet Government of Russia de-sovietize itself, abandon most of all of its fundamental principles.

CHANCES ABOUT EVEN

The Russians have no idea of ditching sovietism in order to secure an agreement with Britain or anyone else. At least they say that, and certainly they seem to have proved it. But they believe there is a fair chance of reaching an agreement with England, and yet retaining the fundamentals of sovietism.

STEFANSSON NOW LAND EVANGEL

Explorer Would Send Acres Down Fertility Trail

NEW YORK — (Special) — Vilhjalmur Stefansson has turned evangel of the wastelands.

He would send the world's dead acres down the eclamation trail to fertility. Where the street evangelist would save souls, he would save soils. And on such a mission he now has embarked.

It was with considerable surprise that the scientific world learned that the famed explorer of Polar regions would devote his Australian wild about which men know little as yet.

For Americans stop to consider that only 100 years ago, or thereabouts, our people were considered worthless. "said Stefansson explaining his new venture. The early settlers pushed along westward and grew along the rivers. In 1818 there came a settler who decided to find out who set out to clear the acres. And the end of the Australian odyssey is now a great tradition. With the first success, there came a great rush of settlers.

"I know this story of America, and I with members of my party, may begin the story over again for Australia, where the wastelands are abundant."

The Arctic one day man will begin to live there properly and another frontier will be waiting to be explored.

Stefansson's interest in Australia was awakened during the World War when George Wilkins, a photographer who had accompanied the great explorer, wrote of the desolate hinterland.

RIKISHA PULLER CITED FOR BRAVERY IN QUAKE

YOKOHAMA — A Yokohama "Rikisha" puller, has been awarded by the British and Japanese governments for heroism in the earthquake disaster of September 1.

Tomokichi Nishiwaki was in front of the Yokohama office of a French steamship company when the quake came. The building collapsed, he heading off of the debris. The French manager for the company, his wife and four Japanese assistants. Nishiwaki then made his way to his own home nearby to find that his wife had been crushed to death and the house burned.

HARGROVE IS SUSPENDED FOR 30 DAYS

LANDIS ACTS IN POLICE CASE

Conduct Unbecoming an Officer Charged to Detective

PARTY AT KENTON ALLEGED

Defendant Was Chief of Local Force at One Time

Detective J. H. Hargrove, chief of the local police department, charged with the conduct unbecoming an officer, was suspended for 30 days today. The charge was made by the police board, which is composed of Mayor Frank A. Buhlman, Police Chief James H. Hargrove, and three other members. Hargrove was suspended for a party at Kenton, Ohio, which he attended while on duty. The party was held at the home of a local resident and was attended by several police officers and their families. Hargrove was the guest of honor at the party and was seen drinking heavily. The police board found this conduct to be unbecoming of a police officer and suspended him for 30 days.

Hargrove was charged with the conduct unbecoming an officer, which is a violation of the police department's code of ethics. The code of ethics states that police officers must not drink heavily while on duty and must not be seen in public places while drinking. Hargrove was suspended for 30 days and must not return to work until he has been cleared by the police board. Hargrove has been on duty since his suspension and has not been seen in public places while drinking. The police board will continue to monitor Hargrove's behavior during his suspension.

Hargrove, who had refused to resign, has been on duty since his suspension. He was seen at the police station today and was seen talking to the police board. Hargrove was seen looking downcast and was seen to be in tears. The police board will continue to monitor Hargrove's behavior during his suspension. Hargrove has been on duty since his suspension and has not been seen in public places while drinking. The police board will continue to monitor Hargrove's behavior during his suspension.

Hargrove was suspended for 30 days and must not return to work until he has been cleared by the police board. Hargrove has been on duty since his suspension and has not been seen in public places while drinking. The police board will continue to monitor Hargrove's behavior during his suspension.

accident.

"We know it was not protected as it should be," he added. "It is one of the worst turns I have ever seen and it is a menace to every motorist who does not know the road."

One other accident was reported late Thursday. Katherine Fommer, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fom-mer, 622 W. Wayne-st, was struck by an automobile said to have been driven by Cyrus Slaver, farmer on the Allentown rd. Her left arm was broken and she was considerably bruised.

The little girl was on her way home from school at the time of the accident. It occurred at the corner of North and Washington-sts. She was taken to St. Rita's hospital for treatment and later removed to her home.

PRINCE OF WALES IS REAL HUMAN

(BY MILTON BROWNER)

LONDON — The Prince of Wales and I traveled together the other afternoon from the French harbor of Boulogne to the British port of Folkestone. So did about 1,500 other Englishmen, Americans and Frenchmen.

The prince had a first-class ticket—just like mine.
He had an ordinary cabin on the ship—just like the kind I could have had next door to him, had I wanted to pay 30 shillings for it.

He was on his way home from LaTourette, where he had been having a little holiday.

Had he been the president of the United States or the big man of any other country outside of England, he would either have traveled in a ship given him alone or he would have had the entire portion of the boat reserved, roped off and guarded, so that the rest of us could not tread the sacred boards in front of the royal cabin.

But the prince, traveling as the Earl of Chester dressed to mingle with his fellow travelers. And I mean just exactly what I say. He strolled on deck when the breeze on the English Channel freshened up, just like the rest of us. In fact I almost bumped into him when the ship gave a lurch.

He was wearing a light tan overcoat that could be dedicated on Broadway for about $45, and pulled down tightly on his forehead was a cap of the same color. Like most of us he was vigorously puffing away at a cigar.

The only sign of protection I saw was a well-groomed, eagle-eyed man who scrutinized those who walked past the prince. But there was no barrier, because a young American girl tourist rushed up to him with a piece of paper and begged for his autograph.

When he arrived at Folkestone, the English train entirely made up of Pullman chair cars was waiting for us. The only difference between the prince and myself was that I found my car by myself, whereas a railway official escorted the prince to his. But he didn't have a private car. He had bought a compartment, just like the rest of us.

There are lots of affairs where the prince has to dress up in gorgeous uniforms and speak and be spoken at. But when he has an evening without anything on his official calendar, then is the time he really enjoys himself.

He used to slip out of the palace without letting anybody know where he was going. But his royal worried over this and secured his promise to quit it. So now he usually goes out with Lord Louis Mountbatten or his confidential adviser Sir Lionel Halsey. If he goes alone, a Secret Service man is notified by him and goes as his shadow.

And the prince has the kind of adventures that tickle his sense of fun. Recently, at a big Piccadilly circus theatre, they were showing an American wild west film. The prince went in alone, asked for a ticket for the stalls, was told there were none left and accordingly went out.

As the prince loves to dance, he spends many of his evenings at places where any well-dressed person who has the price may go. After about two hours of this, he will take a taxi to one of his favorite clubs
— the Marlborough or the Guards or the Bachelor's — where he will sit down with a bunch of men that he knows, drink whisky and soda, and listen to a lot of yarns.

He is rarely seen in a card game, differing in that respect from his grandfather, King Edward. He is not much on reading, either. He gets his information at first hand.

They say he is not keen on the prospect of succeeding to the throne. As prince, he can slip away and have a good time. As king, he couldn't do this.

And if there is one thing that makes him sore, it is for somebody to disregard the fact that he is brooding about as an ordinary human being. Not long ago he went to a theatre, and the manager thought it was his duty to buzz around. The prince became furious.

Result: It will be a long time before he returns to that theatre.

NINE SLAYERS PAY WITH LIVES

of Italy but resident of New Orleans fifteen years. Wife, son and daughter, the latter in their early teens.

Giglio, 33, married, naturalized American citizen. Wife in Brooklyn.

Lamantia, 24, unmarried. Citizen of Italy. Wife and children in Brooklyn.

Leona, 36, married. Citizen of Italy. Wife and children in Brooklyn.

One of the children, a son, was born shortly after his father's arrest and the father never has seen him.

Rini, 24, unmarried. American citizen. Deamora and Leona grew violent recently and were under the observation of alienists. Deamora attempted suicide and wrecked the fittings in his cell ten days ago.

While Leona, who for several weeks maintained that he was "dead," attempted suicide shortly before he was brought here Wednesday from New Orleans by stabbing himself in the chest with a dirk.

LAST HOURS

The six men spent their last few hours with priests. Outside, in the enclosure which surrounds the double gallows, final preparations were being made. The trap doors are in the center of a platform twelve by fifteen feet square. Underneath is a movable rack for physicians to stand to examine the bodies. The jail and court house, in the center of a large square, was surrounded with patrols of national guardsmen. Unauthorized persons were not permitted on the square.
Another line of guards paced back and forth along a rope barrier strung about the jail at a distance of about 20 feet.

The square is surrounded by a ditch and Adjutant General Tombs had it filled with water yesterday. It made a moat around the square from a few inches to two feet in depth and from four to ten feet in width.
The business section of the town was crowded early today.

The final meal was served at 11 a.
m. It consisted of chicken gumbo which was ordered by them last night. This morning the men drank coffee upon awakening. During the night several became hungry and as all the restaurants of the town were closed, the troopers prepared eggs, sandwiches for them.

The hangman, whose identity has been kept a secret, arrived from New Orleans today.
Bochio, for whom relatives of Calmes attempted to obtain clemency, collapsed this morning, and was in a stupor.

MEMOIRS WRITTEN

The concluding paragraph of memoirs written by Bochio, who at one time was preparing himself for the priesthood, read:
"I have done my most to drive away fear. If I die, I die. Perils I shall live again. Yet even with these thoughts I hate to leave just now. There's plenty of fun in life, plenty of music. I want my record and 1922."

SIX MEMBERS OF FAMILY DROWN

Swept from Bridge Into West Virginia Stream

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (Associated Press). Six members of the family of William Miller, an out-chardist, were drowned in flood waters of a small mountain stream according to reports received here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and four children met death when an automobile truck in which they were returning from a fishing trip to their mountain home in Berkeley co., West Virginia, was swept from a bridge by the raging waters. Their bodies were recovered.

Rain fall extending over a period of 36 hours caused the little mountain stream to leave its banks. When Miller and his family reached the small bridge near their home they found the floor of the structure under water. When the truck reached the center the bridge gave way, throwing the machine and its occupants into the stream.

The tragedy was discovered this morning when nearby residents found the upturned truck near shore. They instituted a search for Miller and soon located the body of one of the children. A further search resulted in the finding of the other bodies.

A rainfall in this region yesterday and this morning measured almost four inches.

STEAMER IS BADLY DAMAGED IN CRASH

NEW YORK—With a jagged hole amidships, 15 feet above the water line, the liner Orea limped towards New York today with only 55 passengers aboard following a collision in dense fog last night with the steamer Persanger, 50 miles east of Father Point, Quebec, according to advice received at the offices of the Royal Mail steam packet line here.
The Orea was jammed by the Pers-anger, a Norwegian freighter, but neither vessel was damaged sufficiently to necessitate aid and no one was injured.

The Royal Mail liner left Southampton April 29, but discharged most of her passengers at Quebec.

A large audience greeted Dr. Ira Berix, world traveler and lecturer, who appeared at the Central Church of Christ Thursday night. Dr. Ber-

Passion Play and used stereoscopic slides to illustrate his talk. He is an authority on the play, having seen it produced in the years 1910
and 1922.

3 DIE IN CHAIR IN KENTUCKY

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (United Press)

Three men were electrocuted here early today in the first triple execution ever staged in Kentucky.

Frank Thomas, 71, whose case was taken to the supreme court to save him from the chair, was the first to die. Thomas was convicted of the murder of his friend, Lee Arbogast, in Louisville.

Charles Miller, a negro slayer of two railroad guards, was the second to go to the chair, followed by George Weick, Louisville, convicted of the murder of William Oakie.

The three men were baptized in a tub by the penitentiary chaplain before their execution.
The aged Thomas issued a statement "to the world" just before being strapped into the chair. The statement follows:
"Young people, keep out of bad company, obey your mother and father and work for Jesus. For if we did, we would have no need of penitentiaries and electric chairs.
"Mothers, watch the company your children keep, and see that they go to church instead of road houses."
During the last hour Thomas received a telegram from his attorney in Washington, bidding him "goodbye." The attorney had taken an appeal to the supreme court in an effort to stay execution, but this was denied.

Dr. Nicholas Butler Urges Action by Republicans

SOUNDS WARNING TO PARTY

Danger of Losing 11 States Pointed Out by Him

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and a delegate to the Republican national convention in Cleveland next month, has come out squarely for the insertion of an anti-prohibition plank in the 1924 G. O. P. platform.

This declaration that his party must take that step as "the only way to get back to sound constitutional government" is the latest phase of the nation-wide controversy he stirred up ten days ago when, in a speech before the New York members of the Missouri Society, he launched a vigorous attack on the Volstead act, the eighteenth amendment and liquor law enforcement generally.

ISSUES STATEMENT

The Columbia president, in a statement, added that the Republican party stood in danger of being "driven out of the coming presidential election if it did not take a decisive stand against the existing prohibition situation." His remarks also were construed as a challenge to the Anti-Saloon League which he attacked in his Missouri Society talk.

Declaring he had received assurance of support from governors of states and party leaders throughout the country, he added:

"They have called my attention to the danger to the party if it fails to satisfy public opinion or if it allows itself to be allied even in appearance with the activities of the Anti-Saloon League."

Should the G. O. P. fail to take a platform stand against existing prohibition conditions, Dr. Butler said, it was threatened with the loss of Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

$365 SUIT FILED FRIDAY IN FRED JONES SEWER JOB

One more litigation was added to the many suits pending in Allen county federal courts in which various concerns are endeavoring to collect debts contracted by the Fred R. Jones Co., from the Royal Indemnity Co., sureties.

The latest suit to be filed was instituted Friday. The New York Chicago & St. Louis railroad, seeking to collect $245.90 from the royal company for freight charges alleged to be due on equipment shipped to Jones.

DIES IN AUTO

COLUMBUS—The body of Carl Kinley, of Orient, Ohio, was found in his automobile on the side of the road south of Grove City, early this morning. He had died of heart disease after having brought his machine to a stop. The body will be shipped to Harrisburg, Ohio, where a brother lives.

AMERICA LOSING GRAIN MARKETS

Russia Secures Baltic Trade in Face of Competition

BERLIN—(Associated Press)—American grain has been virtually driven out of the Baltic states and Finland thru Russian competition and is rapidly disappearing from the Scandinavian, German and Dutch markets before Russian grain, according to a report on Russian commerce issued in Berlin by Peter Petroff, an attaché of the Russian commercial delegation in Germany.

Mr. Petroff was an early minister of foreign affairs in Petrograd under the Bolshevik government, and has lived for many years in England.

Between October 1, 1922 and October 1, 1923, the report states the exports of Russia exceeded the imports by a value of 23,190,000 rubles. Grain was the chief item of export and ran was the leading product. The total grain exportation for that year was 59,123,476 pounds, the pound being about 2.2 pounds. This was only 12.6 per cent of Russia's pre-war grain exportation.

Germany and England took 52.7 per cent of Russia's exports for that year, and supplied 66.5 per cent of its imports.

NEW CARDINAL GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING

NEW YORK—George Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, returns to America today on the Berengaria to receive an enthusiastic greeting from New York officials and a delegation of 175 priests and laymen of his native city. The reception here, however, will be but preliminary to the welcome awaiting him in the metropolis of the middle west.

The new cardinal will be met down the bay by a special reception committee and will be transferred from the liner to a smaller steamer which will bear him to the Battery.

From there the entire delegation will proceed to the residence of Cardinal Hayes where Cardinal Mundelein will make a short and formal visit.

In the evening he will be the guest of the Chicago delegation at dinner and will leave for his home tomorrow morning.

LONG DEFIER OF LAW IS DEAD

Adventurous Career of Wisconsin Man Brought to Close

FOUGHT MANY BATTLES

His Term in State Prison Ended by Pardon

MILWAUKEE — (Associated Press) — John Dietz, 63, "Defender of Cameron Dam" died late yesterday.

While he hovered between life and death, Dietz became reconciled with those of his family for whom and with whom he fought the battles on the "Thompson river" in 1910. His wife, his three sons, Clarence, Leslie and John, and two daughters, Mrs. M. M. Newman, and Ellen Dietz were with him. Dietz while a young man, built a log cabin in a clearing on the Thompson river, adjoining Cameron Dam, and posted a "no trespass" notice. He served notice on lumber interests that he would fight any attempt to float logs down the stream. The lumber company obtained an injunction and it was in ignoring this injunction that Dietz first conflicted with the law.

ATTEMPTED
In May, 1904, twenty men were sent to arrest him. Dietz met the party and shot three men. The posse retired.

Two years later Sheriff Gylland, with six men, attempted to reach Dietz. A battle ensued and John Rogich, a deputy sheriff, and Clarence Dietz were wounded. Dietz was not taken.

In September, 1910, the battle was resumed. Dietz visited Winter, Wis., where he became embroiled in an altercation with Bert Horrel over an election argument and Horrel was shot. Dietz barricaded himself and again fought off the officers, and in October, 1910, Sheriff Madden, believing he could capture Dietz on the road near the farm, lay in wait for the Cameron Dam defender.

Clarence, Leslie and Myra Dietz, driving to town were halted by the

LODGE SILENT ON NEW COURT IDEA

Offers World Tribunal Without Explanation

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Some definite reaction from the White House and state department was awaited today to the new world court plan proposed in detail yesterday by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and chairman of the foreign relations committee, which has before it a number of proposals dealing in different ways with the same matter.

Senator Lodge resolution proposes the setting up of a world court thru the Hague conference which would be reconvened at the call of the president for the purpose, and makes no reference to the court of international justice established under the auspices of the League of Nations.

Comment on the plan, which was submitted to the senate without explanation was withheld yesterday in executive quarters, and it was not disclosed whether the president or Secretary Hughes had been informed in advance of Lodge's intention. Indications appeared clear, however,

CENTRAL MIRROR AWARDED THIRD PLACE IN CONTEST

The Mirror, Central high school's weekly publication, has been awarded third place in the Class B competition held by the Journal in department of Ohio State university. Notice to this effect has been received by Robert Shaffer, editor of the publication.

This classification includes high schools having an enrollment between 500 and 1,000. The school will receive a suitable reward and each member of the staff will be given an engraved certificate.

MRS. LUCAS FINED

Woman is Convicted on Charge of Liquor Possession

Mrs. Jennie Lucas, was found guilty of illegal possession of whisky when tried before Judge J. H. Hamilton in probate court late Thursday.

Deputies Osburn and Smith and Constable Frank Roney of Buckland, testified to finding the woman in a room in the office hotel. Her traveling bag contained 15 pint bottles of liquor, they testified.

Several officers tasted the whisky and pronounced it to be intoxicating. Judge Hamilton fined the defendant $250 and gave her until Friday noon to pay the amount or go to jail.

dy, state civil service examinations, are in charge of the tests. They announced that the examination can be taken by any resident of the state. The ruling was made when several couples living in other counties applied.

Allen-co contestants sought to have them because they were not residents of the county.

Among those taking the examination are several nurses and attendants employed at Lima state hospital.

Examinations are conducted in the lower court room at the court house.

PLOT TO SEIZE MINES BARED

Plan of Separatists in Germany is Revealed

INCLUDES 8 HOUR PROGRAM

Labor Clash in Ruhr Valley Still Critical

BERLIN—(United Press)—Separatists as well as Communists are trying desperately to take advantage of the situation in the Ruhr, where 60,000 miners are locked out or on strike. A Separatist plot was unearthed today which provided for the formation of the "Ruhr economy state."

Documents revealing the plot showed that the Separatists plan to occupy the Ruhr, and then devote to reparations, but not wholly at the miners' expense. It was proposed to start negotiations with France, Belgium and Great Britain in the name of the Ruhr state once the occupation was effected.

The workers would also have the right to work on any day which they insisted.

Meanwhile, the strikes and lockouts continue, with increasing prospects of a sympathetic strike in Saxony.

The German government is willing to try to settle the Ruhr economic questions, but shies at intervention due to the political aspects of the lockouts.

FAVOR PLEBISCITE

BERLIN—(United Press)—The national committee of the Socialist party today voted unanimously in favor of the national plebiscite to determine the German people's approval of the experts' plan for settlement of the reparations problem.

RICE PRICE INCREASE

BOOSTS BUYING OF WHEAT

VANCOUVER, B. C. — Advances in the price of native rice are forcing Japan to buy Canadian wheat in heavy quantities, according to T. Shimusaki, representative of a Tokyo selling firm, who is investigating the wheat situation.

Mr. Shimusaki said Canadian wheat could be imported by Japan at about 15 cents a bushel cheaper than Japanese wheat could be produced, and was much cheaper than rice. The Japanese people, he added, have come to prefer wheat to rice.

Japan has imported 80,000 tons of Canadian wheat in the last three months, according to statistics of the port of Vancouver. China also has been a heavy purchaser, taking 120,000 tons.

"UNCLE ALF" IS ILL

NOTHER RAIN IS DUE, SKAT SAYS

That was seen sulking thru Lima streets Friday morning in an ugly mood with his nose to the ground. At first it was thought he was on the trail of liquor law violators but investigation soon disclosed that the feline weather prognosticator was looking for a little sunshine to head out to Lima folks instead of "moonshine." "This rainy weather is enough for a cat to take nine lives," Skat said as he glanced over the official weather report which predicted occasional showers and moderate temperatures. "I don't mind a little rain on Tuesday or Wednesday," Skat said, "but I hate to see it rain the latter part of the week when I am planning week-end parties."

RURAL DISTRICT TO GRADUATE

Westminster Scholars to Get Diplomas Saturday Night

Westminster rural school district will hold its annual commencement for high school and eighth grade graduates on Saturday night at Westminster school house, County Superintendent Arganbright announced Friday.

Twenty-two eighth grade students will receive their diplomas making them eligible to enter high school next fall. Three high school students will also be graduated, making a graduating class of 25 students. High school graduates are Marcelle Stevenson, Minnie Goldsmith and Richard Wallace. HEINRICH FEIKERT, 83, DIES AFTER SHORT SEIGE

Heinrich Feikert, 83, died Friday morning at his home, 688 N. Jackson-st., after an illness of one week from pneumonia. He was born in Bavaria, Germany, May 23, 1841, and is survived by five daughters; and one son.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

BARNES CIRCUS IS COMING HERE

May 19 is Date for Season's First Open Air Exhibition

Practically every one of the 2,000 animals with the A. G. Barnes circus and wild animal show to appear in Lima Monday, May 19, have appeared before the motion picture camera. During the past winter the circus was stationed at Culver City, Calif., and the animals were used in many of the pictures to be released this summer and autumn.

Joe Martin is well known for his many comedies and other of the animals appearing in the various acts of the circus will be recognized by motion picture devotees.

There is one thing, however, that the animals do not like about the movies. That is the "wind machine."

This blows sawdust in their eyes and makes them sneeze. Experienced showmen assert that the animals soon tire of the motion picture work and are glad when summer comes and the circus starts its journey from city to city. They seem to be regular actors and like to meet their audience face to face.

FINAL VOTE ON TAX BILL BLOCKED

Plan for Action Today Howled Down in Senate

AMENDMENTS STILL POUR IN

Move Now Afoot to Tack Farm Aid to Measure

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Pressing toward a final vote on the revenue bill, the Senate today faced a stalling tactic in the plan to bring it to a vote on legislation to raise the National Highway Building and Maintenance Act.

Two amendments were introduced on the bill, one by Sen. Charles McNary, D-Ind., and another by Sen. Charles McNary, D-Ind., both of which were rejected by a vote of 60-39.

All of the amendments were disposed of by a vote of 60-39, the same margin as the vote on the bill itself.

Amendment after amendment was accepted, but the bill was not brought to a vote. The amendments were mostly aimed at increasing the tax on the production of oil and gas, and on the production of coal.

In addition, the Democratic side added a bill to increase the tax on the production of oil and gas, and on the production of coal.

Substitution of an income tax schedule calling for less of a reduction on surtaxes and a greater cut in normal rates than proposed in either the house bill or by Secretary Mellon.

Opening of tax returns and the hearings of the proposed board of tax appeals to the public.

Substitution of a graduated tax on undistributed profits of corporations for the present flat corporation levy.

Around these provisions, if finally accepted, will center the fight in conference with the house and the question of party supremacy. Each was made a party issue.

In connection with the announced opposition of President Coolidge to these provisions, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, during debate last night declared "It has been whispered about that President Coolidge is going to veto this revenue bill."

He brought no response from the Republican side.

NON-SUPPORT CHARGED IN PROPOLOFF DIVORCE CASE

Charging that her male refused to support her properly and that he gambled because he could not afford to give her necessities, Mrs. Nellie E. Propoloff, 227 N. Scott-st., filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Friday against Michael J. Propoloff, boiler maker.

She asserts that he left her on May 5 and has never returned in order to restrain the defendant from disposing of household goods stored in the Lima Truck & Storage warehouse was handed down by the court. The couple were married April 24, 1923.

UNREST PREVAILS IN MANCHURIA

Japanese Government Refuses to Withdraw Garrison

TOKYO — (Associated Press) — The Japanese government has decided to stand firm, for this time at least, its refusal for the withdrawal of its military forces from Manchuria.

The decision was reached on recommendation of the war office after vigorous representations regarding conditions in Manchuria had been received from Japanese residents there, chiefly along the line of the South Manchuria Railway.

Plans for the withdrawal of the Manchurian garrisons were announced at the close of the Washington conference. The garrisons then consisted of six infantry battalions. Two battalions were withdrawn in 1923; two more were to come out in 1924 and the remaining two in 1925.

Conditions have become such according to Japanese military authorities, that it is impossible to carry out the scheduled evacuation this year.

NEW TREATMENT FOR PNEUMONIA ANNOUNCED

NEW YORK — Medical circles here today were discussing with great interest announcement of a new treatment for pneumonia with the potential power of saving from 22,500 to 45,000 lives a year in the United States alone.

The treatment, according to a statement by a life insurance company which financed researches ending in its discovery, is effective in from 25 to 50 per cent of the cases where it is used. It was perfected by Dr. Lloyd B. Brown, a young physician of the department of preventative medicine and hygiene of Harvard medical school.

Sixty cases have been treated successfully with the discovery in Boston and 60 in New York.

TWO MEN COMMIT SUICIDE AT CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI — Two suicides by shooting were reported to the coroner here today.

Henry Meyers, retired stone mason, used his toe to press the trigger of a shotgun and literally blew his head off. Relatives said it was the fourth attempt on his life.

Because he believed he was losing his sight, John Hillebrandt, 71, a carpenter, shot himself thru the head and died instantly. His wife was preparing breakfast at the time.

CRABBE RULES ON FEE FOR VIEWING OF BODY

COLUMBUS — Attorney General Crabbe today ruled that a justice of peace, when acting as coroner, may charge a fee of five dollars for viewing the body. The charge is to be paid by the county.

Crabbe also ruled that it is the duty of the city solicitor to prosecute state cases in a mayor's court, and council may by resolution or ordinance, require him to prosecute those cases in higher courts.

It is the duty of the prosecuting attorney, Crabbe declared, to prosecute state cases on error from the mayor's court in the common pleas and higher courts.

MYSTERY CASTLE SECRET IS OUT

Strange Structure in New Jersey is Research Laboratory

DISCOVERIES PERFECTED

Plans Made for the Treatment of Human Cells

(BY FRANK GETTY)
ALPINE, N. J. — (United Press) — Where the sheer palisades rise two feet above the glistening Hudson at Alpine, a strange, red, huge, ashroom-like monotony of architecture, struggles in a tangle of living trees and underbrush. Small boys who crawled, beneath bidding barred who entangled themselves and unwelcome visitors ousted from the premises by whiskered guards dubbed it "Alpine's Mystery Castle."
But the secret is out. The mystery castle, is a non-magnetic research laboratory. The fierce guards are workmen completing construction. The builder is Dr. John Clawson Burnett, a youthful, sandy-haired, dynamic idealist who showed no corresponding about the place. Within the sloping walls of the laboratory, Dr. Burnett and his assistant J. Henry Halbert, E. E., are completing and perfecting discoveries, inventions and adaption of delicate instruments for the treatment of human cells.
PURPOSE OF WORK
The ultimate purpose of Dr. Burnett's work, he says, is the benefit of humanity thru treatment of individual cells, which he conceives to function their own minute way exactly as the body itself absorbs nourishment and discards poisons. "Nothing in life is so constant as change," he said, in explanation of his theory that all life is moving in cycles and that thru his elaborate instruments for stimulation of that change he can prolong and make happier existence for everyone.

The laboratory and the little cluster of weirdly-built buildings about it, are not part of a commercial enterprise, Dr. Burnett insisted. The doctor, who is 38, is a man of independent means. His wife, a former New Jersey heiress, Cora Timken, designed the unusual group of houses.
They are the chief d'oeuvre of her delving in what she calls "organic architecture." The most important discovery which the doctor had to announce from among a mass of elaborate expensive and to the laymen inexplicable machinery with which he had equipped his laboratory was proof that the oscilloclast a device invented by the late Dr. Albert Abrams of California, actually gives off energy.
"I am not yet making any claims as to the effect of this treatment of the oscilloclast upon the human body," Dr. Burnett said.
"But we have proved beyond doubt that the machine gives off regulated energy in direct contravention of what Henry Ford's scientist said.
The doctor is surprisingly young, unusually enthusiastic about himself and his work; is an egoistic idealist who constantly reiterates that "when I make up my mind to do a thing, I do it."

NEW LABOR LAW
WARSAW, Poland — The diet has passed a bill giving state protection to working women and minors. The bill is based entirely on the Washington labor convention, with a few additions due to local conditions, such as prohibition of the employment of boys or girls under fifteen, which is contrary to the Polish constitution.

DEMOCRATS WILL TEST NEW YORK

Gotham Must Prove Ability to Handle Big Convention

200,000 VISITORS EXPECTED

Hotels Prepare to Take Care of the Crowd

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—New York City is used to conventions, about 500 are held here annually, but it will get its first big test in handling a convention on a great scale when the Democrats meet in June to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President.

While there have been notable gatherings attended by many thousands of delegates in the past, there has never been a convention here that will approach the size of the Democratic meeting. Ordinarily, a convention is swallowed up in the vastness and there is no noticeable increase in the crowds. A few thousand people more make but little difference in a community of over 6,000,000.

WILL FEEL INFLUX

This June, however, New York is bound to feel the influx of many thousands of visitors. Some estimates place the number expected at 200,000. The first result will be to tax the city's transportation system to the limit. The subways, elevated and trolley lines are already jammed daily with struggling strap-hanging people, especially in rush hours.

The problem can be visualized when it is realized that 2,000,000 passengers were carried on the various transit lines last year, an increase of 50,000,000 over the previous year. The normal increase in local passenger traffic is about 2,500 persons a day.

New York, however, has a habit of taking care of such problems and the out of town visitors may be pushed a bit in the subway jams but he will be able to get about town quickly.

The city has 300 hotels and hundreds of boarding houses. Reservations already have been made for the delegates and alternates at the principal hotels. The visitors accompanying the delegates is will be provided for, and a special committee has been working for weeks perfecting plans for taking care of every one.

The hotel owners have agreed not to raise prices. The thousands of restaurant owners have entered into a similar agreement.

GOLDEN GATE TO BE BRIDGED

Structure at San Francisco to Cost $20,000,000

PLANS ARE ALREADY DRAWN

Will be Longest Single Span in the World

SAN FRANCISCO — (As noted by the Associated Press) — The plan and tunnel across San Francisco Bay, under construction of contemplated, call for estimated expenditures of approximately $20,000,000. The bridge is to be built before the completion of the Panama Canal. The bridge will be 2.7 miles long, 1,200 feet wide at the base, and 1,000 feet wide at the top. It will be the longest single span bridge in the world.

The bridge is to be built on the site of the old bridge, which was destroyed by the earthquake of 1906. The new bridge will be built on a new site, which is 1.2 miles long and 1,000 feet wide at the base.

MAINE PLANS MEMORIAL TO INTREPID LUMBERJACK

1 LANGOIT, Me. — The spirit of the old-time Maine lumberman who guided the great log jams down the rushing rivers is to be perpetuated in bronze. On the banks of a tributary of the Penobscot river, a monument to the pioneer lumberman is to be erected near the Penobscot public library as a memorial to the late Colonel Luther H. Pierce of Chicago.

go, a former Bangor resident, will be placed a great bronze relief depicting three river drivers engaged in the perilous task of breaking out the key log of a jam to release the millions of logs behind.

Commission has accepted a design submitted by Charles E. Tefft of New York, a native of Bangor. The sculptor obtained much of his inspiration and inspiration for the design from Patrick Conners of this city, now 84 years of age, the last survivor of four brothers who for many years piloted log drives down the Penobscot.

PRIEST DIES
CINCINNATI — Rev. Michael A. Mulvanill, 59, Catholic priest who served in Hamilton and Marion, died here.

FOUND NOT GUILTY
CLEVELAND — Police Sergeant William Lavin, whose home was raided by a state prohibition inspector and who was under suspension from the Cleveland police force was found not guilty of possession of liquor in federal court.

POLICE OPEN WAR ON THEFT GANG

Average of Three Bicycles Are Stolen Nightly in Lima

AUTO REPORTED MISSING

City is Headquarters of Thieves Police Officials Believe

Crusade to break up what is believed to be an organized gang of bicycle thieves operating within the city was launched Friday by higher ups at police headquarters as report of thefts continued to be reported at headquarters from all sections of the city.

Warnings were issued at the same time to owners of bicycles to practice safety by locking their vehicles when left in parking spaces. Unlocked bicycles, police claim, are invitations for thieves operating at night.

An average of three bicycles a night are reported stolen, police records show. During the past two weeks the toll has totalled nearly 50 stolen bicycles, a steady increase over the preceding space of time.

Recent thefts vary from the general tendency of thefts in that very few of the missing bicycles are recovered, substantiating the belief that a gang of thieves have headquarters in Lima and operate to dispose of the vehicles for financial gain instead of stealing for pleasure rides as has been the practice in former years.

THIEVES ARE BUSY
Theft of three bicycles Wednesday night were added to Thursday night with two theft reports received at police headquarters in addition to a request for the recovery of a $1,000 automobile stolen from W. North-st. at the edge of the business section.

Chester Kaiser, 137 1/2 S. Elizabeth-st., and C. M. Faust, 1311 E. Elm-st., are the latest victims. They told police their bicycles were stolen Thursday.

William Getz, 729 E. North-st., had his Chalmers touring car taken from in front of 206 E. North-st. Thursday night, he told police in asking that a search be started. The car, valued at $1,000, is insured. Police broadcasted a general alarm to adjoining towns.

Of the many bicycles stolen here within the past few months, only a few have been recovered, and these were found abandoned, police records show. This fact, according to police, strengthens their belief that an organized gang is operating here and disposing of the bicycles in other cities.

Parisian theatergoers are paying tribute to a new Gaby Deslys. Mile. Juliette De Presles has replaced the once world-famous Gaby in the affections of the musical comedy lovers. None other since Gaby's death has received such ovations. And her jewels, they say, are the most beautiful in all Paris.

LAFAYETTE FARMERS HEAR DAIRY MARKETING REPORT BY FARM BUREAU DIRECTOR

A group of Lafayette farmers met Thursday night at Lafayette town hall and hear a talk on dairy marketing by E. D. Wald, state director of dairy marketing, Ohio Farm bureau federation.

Wald explained dairy marketing work in Ohio and pointed out the fact that the dairy industry is the biggest single industry in Ohio. It is bigger, he said, than any other two agricultural industries. He pointed out that two of the dairy marketing organizations in Ohio are at present marketing more than $2,000,000 worth of products per month, and all of the twelve organizations in the state are marketing $50,000,000 per year.

On Friday night Wald will make a similar talk at the Knights of Pythias hall in Spencerville.

OHIO OIL DIVIDEND

Directors of the Ohio Oil Co. have declared a dividend of 50 cents a share, it was announced Friday. It will be paid June 30 to stockholders on record May 24. This dividend is an increase of 25 cents over the last one.

BOGUS MONEY IN CIRCULATION

Warnings Received Here Against Counterfeit $20 Bills

Warnings to bank and merchants to be on the look out for counterfeit gold certificates were received here Friday from United States Secret Service headquarters at Cleveland. The bills are crude imitations and easily detected by persons used to handling money. The portrait of Washington is somewhat blurred and the paper is stiffer and heavier than in the genuine certificates. None of the bogus certificates have been circulated here, according to police who officially warned all local banks Friday.

RESCUE WORKERS ENJOY NEW YORK CONVENTION

Rev. D. R. Plunkett and Rev. A. D. Welty who are attending the convention of the International Union of Gospel Missions in New York City report that more than 400 are present and that the sessions are very helpful.

Various trips are made by the delegates and they were entertained by Mrs. Finley L. Shepherd, Helen Gould before her marriage, at her estate. The local men were representing the Lima Rescue home at the convention.

A High Oven Garland Range

Specialty Priced for Garland Week Only $49.75

This popular model has the elevated oven and broiler; four-hole open cooking top, equipped with new, patented heat-spreading burners. This is the plain black model of the famous Garland quality through. It has white enamel panels in oven and broiler doors.

This Same Model with White Enamel Back and Side Splashes. Specialty Priced for Garland Week Only $53.50

You can get perfect results in baking and roasting in a Garland oven, because you are assured an absolutely uniform heat, the flame on the oven bottom being deflected in such a manner that it spreads evenly over the entire surface, thus eliminating those "hot spots" so dangerous in the baking of breads and pastries.

An All-White Garland Range

Specialty Priced for Garland Week Only $98.75

This is one of the Garland's most beautiful ranges, attractive in its all-white enamel with nickel-plated trimmings, enameled grates and cooking top. This is not only a range of handsome appearance, but is of that famous Garland quality throughout that has endeared the Garland to the hearts of those American housewives who appreciate a thoroughly dependable range.

A Semi-Enamel Garland Range, Specialty Priced for Garland Week Only $76.50

Don't fail to attend this demonstration—you will learn why the Garland has been a leader for more than half a century; let us show you how this new Garland burner will cut your gas bill practically 50 per cent.

OPEN LETTERS

To Chief Lanker

Dear Tom: Kidnapers are getting too bold in my city. Why not equip a special squad to take care of them?

LIMA BEANE

To Solicitor Landis

Dear Paul: I have suggested to City Hall that they employ an assistant for you so that my legal business may be taken care of in good time. Delays are costly to me. If Byng acts on the suggestion, you may have time to hook a few crappie occasionally. They're biting fine now.

LIMA BEANE

To Swimmers

My friends: Already the waters in the vicinity of my city have taken their first toll of bathers. I have warned you repeatedly in the past about the danger to those who venture into deep water when they are not able to swim well. And there is always danger from cramps. I hope the death list from this source will be small this season.

LIMA BEANE

To George B. Walther

Dear George: I congratulate you upon getting the Main-st paving contract. It is always an honor to pave the main street of a city and in this case you are paving the main thoroughfare of your home town. I am certain that you realize the responsibility and that a good job will be done.

LIMA BEANE

To Fire Chief Mack

Dear John: I note that you have been having considerable trouble from false fire alarms. There always will be annoyance from this source, but I think education of the public to the seriousness of calling out fire apparatus, which is forced to dash thru the busy streets, will help cut it to the minimum.

LIMA BEANE

To Sheriff Croson

Dear Harvey: I'm glad the bandits have been steering clear of my county for the last few weeks. If they should have come before you got the speed car that was confiscated some time ago, I shudder to think of the possible results. Scatter!

LIMA BEANE

To School Children

Dear Children: I hope you read this week of the expense to my city during the last year of maintaining one of the best school systems in the country. It cost $62.47 for each of you attending public schools, to say nothing of the expense to your parents.

When you stop to think of the advantages you have to get an education, it should help overcome that spring feverish feeling that is so common about this time of year. You are living in a wonderful age and should make the most of your opportunities. Your parents are making a big sacrifice for you and I'm counting on you to avail yourselves of every opportunity to get an education.

LIMA BEANE

To C. E. Bobenmeyer

Dear Charley: Now that the city commission has authorized the issuance of special assessments to pay for street cleaning, I hope it will be possible for your department to keep the street flusher working on the streets often enough to wash away the heavy coating of dust that is already making its appearance. A number of the streets in the outlying part of the city have not been cleaned this spring and a number of downtown streets are a sea of mud when it rains. If my people are to be charged with the cleaning, the city should see that the streets are cleaned once in a while.

LIMA BEANE

To Library Officials

Public Servants: I am glad you were able to entertain the members of the district association here during the past week. It will not only be a help for the local library but it will show other people that my city is on its toes in regard to library development. It always affords me a great deal of pleasure to go to the library and browse thru the volumes on the shelves. My only wish is that I had more time to read the many new books constantly being received. I hope my people learn to make greater use of the advantages offered.

LIMA BEANE

To the Weather Man

Old Top: Just when you were getting Old Sol around in place to warm things up, you changed your mind and I had to get the old "biller" going again. Forget it!

LIMA BEANE

To L. E. Ludwig

Dear Earl: So far you have the Democratic field to your self in the congressional race. It is probable that you will get the nomination without opposition in your party. I am confident that you would do credit to the office and represent your district in a satisfactory manner.

LIMA BEANE

To My Hospitals

Dear Folks: Next Monday you will be observing hospital day. Invitations have been extended to all persons to visit the institutions and see for themselves the improvements that have been made in the treatment of disease. You are doing a great work and I hope many of my people will use this opportunity to get better acquainted with the advantages offered.

LIMA BEANE

To Congressman Cable

Dear John: Your definite announcement thru my favorite newspaper yesterday that your name will be on the gubernatorial ballot next fall disposes of rumors that you will seek another term as congressman from the historic old Fourth district.

I'm for you in the governorship primary race and hope you are successful in getting the nomination. I think you would give my friend Vic Donahy a run for the money in November.

LIMA BEANE

To Prospective Home Owners

My Friends: I don't want to become a bore, but I can't resist calling your attention to the fact that this is a wonderful time to start building that home you have been dreaming of for so long. And you couldn't find a better place in the world to build it than in dear old Lima.

MAD DOGS, SNAKES AND FIREWORKS

Without a key to the medicine about people "going mad" months or years after a bite. Rabies prevails among many species of domestic and wild animals. The term "hydrophobia" meaning fear of water, was invented thru misunderstanding, an animal with rabies is likely to suffer spasm of the throat on an attempt to swallow food or water, and therefore declines to attempt to take food or water. There is no fear of water involved. A rabid animal, at the height of the disease, is delirious and snaps wildly at anything or everything that gets in its way. After a few days of illness the animal grows weak, drags the hind legs and presently becomes paralyzed. Rabies occurs in animals in every month of the year and is not particularly prevalent in very hot weather or "dog days". It is foolish to kill a suspected animal which has bitten anybody, unless for the purpose of getting the animal's head for examination by a pathologist. The superstition that the killing of the animal in any way benefits the person bitten is too ridiculous to mention seriously.

DOMESTIC HEROINES IN OUR HOMES

Women who lead a domestic life seem to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. As long as they can drag themselves around women continue to work. Necessity to keep on their feet all day when over-tired, or sitting in cramped positions day in and day out often brings on ailments from which women suffer tortures. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been strengthening women and overcoming such ailments. Sickness and pain vanish under its influence and thousands of women have been benefited by it.

Glad Sister Escaped OPERATION

"Physicians had given my sister up to die; they wanted to operate for gall stones, but she was too weak and could only talk in whispers. I got her a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Anuric (anti-uric-acid) tablets and took them. It was rheumatism and in about three or four weeks I had relief. I know, too, from the experiences of others with whom I am acquainted, users of Dr. Pierce's Anuric, that they have been benefited."—Harry E. Sutton.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUNTER

THE KIDNAPER WORLD
When the fish begin to bite
And the stream begins to run,
And the clouds are fleecy white
In the glory of the sun,
Then another world than ours
Seems to beckon me away,
Where the birds and trees and flowers
Live and laugh and sing and pray.

This old world wherein we dwell
And go tolling thru the years,
Has so much of pain to tell
With its oft repeated tears,
And so much of care and grief,
That another world was made
For the weary soul's relief,
Filled with sunshine and with shade.

There the people are the trees,
And the butterflies a-wing,
And the golden coated bees
And the birds that sweetly sing;
And some drowsy afternoon
One may hear out there alone,
If his soul is but in tune,
Language sweeter than his own.

They will have no shame to tell
As he lies out there and dreams,
They have nothing they would sell
And they'll talk no sordid schemes.

But the marvel of the clod
They will everywhere display;
Down the avenues of God
They will lead his soul away.

And it's I who soon shall pass
Out of city street and wall,
To lie full length upon the grass—
For I've heard the summer call,
And the soul of me shall stray,
While I fish with rod and line,
To be happy for a day
In a kinder world than mine.

On the paves, met Ernie Heil, the expert contractor. Giving me sad news for the rollers. Spencerville did not to be finished until Labor Day, he fears.

Into a money, for kind words from Clair Tolson, newly come from Sarasota since I had seen him. Albeit, money is just as tight as it was before he came back. Second hand cars, more plentiful. There, too, fell into discourse with Chet Cable, the barrister. Learning his father is no better, tho it is hoped to soon bring him back to Springfield farm.

Dined, in fair companionship, with my wife, poor wretch. All the day bustled with painters and "ac cleaners." The guy who said it was cheaper to own than to rent, is a liar. For 13 years there was no up-keep, and no taxes. Now there is even street cleaning, along with Bouli-taxes, taxes upon, and water bills, four or five times a season. The apartment dwellers know nothing at all about brave householding on the own-your-own theory, with mortgage annex.

In the evening, strolled to Charlie's Place, there learning my soft partner had been bitten by a scared child. He wearing a thumb the like of which you never did see. Later home, to cuss the static, and put out the cat. So, discouraged, to bed.

AFRICAN BOERS IN POLITICAL WAR

Elections Between June 15-20 to Settle Controversy

PREMIER SMUTS ACTIVE

General Hertzog Has Support of Socialist Party

BY J. W. T. MASON
NEW YORK—(United Press)—General Hertzog, the Collins of South Africa, who wants to make South Africa a republic by peaceful constitutional means, has challenged the pro-imperial rule of Premier Smuts, often described as the most experienced statesman in the world. A battle of great significance is now being waged among these two Boers, which will terminate in the South African elections between June 15 and 20.

Premier Smuts, the only signer of the Versailles treaty who protested the unworkability of the document, nevertheless was able to annex German South Africa to his own colony and has made annexation work. But his Premiership of the South African Union has greatly antagonized the Boers and the Socialist workingmen because they believe he is too quick to use military methods to deal the army against Boer revolts during unruly situations. He called out the world war and suppressed the insurgents. He also used the same system in dealing with workingmen's strikes since war. The League of Nations, too, has condemned his use of airplane bombing to collect native taxes.

SMUTS RUTHLESS

These ruthless methods General Hertzog has charged with causing into political quarrels. His rule, therefore, has antagonized the Nationalists, under General Hertzog and the Socialists under the leadership of the South African Debs, a man named Cresswell.

General Smuts's downfall would test the strength of the movement in South Africa to break away from British rule, the not by any such methods as proved so ineffective in Ireland. General Hertzog has never associated himself with rebellion. He is not a dreamer like De Valera. His agitation for independence has always been such as to keep him strictly within the law. He does not resemble the old type of Paul Kruger Boer, relying on divine inspiration instead of scientific knowledge for prosperity.

General Hertzog is highly educated and a suave and adroit politician. An effort has been made to connect General Hertzog with the postponement of the Prince of Wales's South African trip planned for this summer. But the real reason for the postponement has been the strict constitutionality of the British crown which prevents its interference in an election. If the Prince had persisted in his visit he would have arrived in the midst of the parliamentary campaign and might have been accused of desiring to aid General Smuts.

NOT A DE VALERA

General Hertzog, in a statement in the South African House of Assembly, declared "if the Prince visited South Africa in the future he would be greeted with the respect and warmth worthy of his high position and of the South African people." This statement has set at rest rumors that General Hertzog would develop De Valera tactics if he should become the next South African premier.

Nevertheless, the possibility of a peaceful separation from the British Empire is never absent from General Hertzog's thoughts. Should he head the next ministry at Capetown South African public opinion will be given various opportunities to express itself on this question.

The Socialists, who oppose General Smuts and support General Hertzog, are not as a rule separatists. Independence might be very costly to maintain, while the present form of practically complete autonomy is a free gift of the British fleet. Furthermore, it was the fact of union with Great Britain which caused South Africa to get the enormously valuable German colonies. A fight in South Africa for independence would mean civil war in an area where the native blacks outnumber the whites nine to one. So, civil war will not be the answer, no matter how the June elections result.

WEDDING DATE ANNOUNCED AT BRIDGE

Announcement of the date of the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth Parmenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Parmenter, to Dr. Fred Leroy Mitchell of Globe, Arizona, was made at the attractive bridge-ten given Friday afternoon by Mrs. George Leslie Parmenter at her home, 1125 Litchfield. The wedding of Miss Parmenter and Dr. Mitchell will be an afternoon affair on June 10 at the Market Street Presbyterian church.

Sixteen tables were filled for the afternoon of play, guests found attached to the list of hearts of each deck. Individual cards bearing the announcement. The daily cards read: "Miss Ruth Parmenter to Dr. Fred Leroy Mitchell, June 10, 1924." It was served at five o'clock, Mrs. Parmenter being assisted by Mrs. E. N. Gordon, Mrs. Frank Tremaine and Miss Gail Alderman. Guests included Mesdames William Altizer, Francis O'Connor, Frank Sealls, Vernon Fisher, How and Webb, Orlin June, Harry Goldsberry, Val Kohl, William Daniels, G. A. Skinner, Howard Carr, How and Fletcher, Don Armstrong, J. G. S. A number of other pre-nuptial affairs are already being planned for Miss Parmenter.

The Junior Light Bearers of the Market-st. Presbyterian church will meet at the church Saturday at 2:30 p. m. A large attendance is desired.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Susie:
I am 14 years old and am five feet, three inches tall. How much should I weigh?
I have a large nose and large feet. How can I make them smaller?
I have dark hair and rough skin. How can I make them white and soft?
What are the meanings of the following names: Laura, Fanny, Julia, Agnes, Sam and Lena?
Please give me a recipe for a good chocolate cake and loaf.
I have black eyes and hair. What color can I wear best?
Do you think it is too early to wear white clothes? Do you think that sunglasses will be worn this summer?
May I write again?

MIN GUMP

You should weigh about 120 pounds.

Alum water is about the only thing I can suggest for reducing the size of your nose and feet. Mix two teaspoons of the alum powder in a pint of boiling water and after having allowed the mixture to stand, massage your nose carefully. Soak and massage your feet with alum water. But, why worry? One big nose and two big feet really aren't cause for worry and if you are in good health, why not be satisfied? The following lotion is splendid to make your hands soft and white. To the usual mixture of glycerin and rose water, which you can purchase at any drug store, add lemon juice. The juice of one lemon to four ounces of the lotion is a good proportion. Massage your hands with this. Laura means a laurel; Fanny means a poney; Julia means soft-haired; Agnes means pure; Sam means a princess and Lena means light.

Here is a recipe for a delicious cake, called "fudge cake." Two-thirds cup butter creamed with one cup granulated sugar, one-fourth cup of chocolate melted over hot water; yolks of two eggs beaten to a cream, one cup milk added alternately with two and a half cups flour sifted with two teaspoons baking powder; whites of the two eggs whipped stiff and folded in. Bake in a loaf pan. FROSTING: Melt half cup chocolate over hot water, add tablespoon butter, one and one-fourth cups sugar, one-fourth cup milk; cook ten minutes. Let stand until slightly cooled, then add a teaspoon of vanilla and beat until a consistency to spread.

Red, jade, purple and navy blue would be becoming shades for you. Yes, it is a little early, of course, when it is warm enough to wear white dresses or white skirts and sweaters, then the white shoes will be appropriate. Sandals will not be as popular as last summer.

Yes, please do.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am 14 years old and am five feet, two inches tall. How much should I weigh?
I have dark brown eyes, dark hair and a medium complexion. What color would I best wear?
What do the following names mean: Imogene, Lucille, Laura and Maxine?
What will make the finger nails grow when they are short?

Is this paper the sort you need to this kind of a letter? How do you like it?

OF THE LIMA NEWS

You should weigh 105 pounds.

Tan, navy blue and various shades of brown, such as henna, Mexican, brick-red would be some of the shades becoming for you.

Imogene means peaceful; Laura means a laurel; Lucille means light and Maxine means admirable.

If you take the proper care of your finger nails and do not bite them they will grow long enough. Manicure them often, keep them in good condition and the nails will not grow. If you are in the habit of biting your nails, it will be hard to stop but it is a most deplorable habit.

Yes, the paper is perfectly proper. Your writing is unusually neat and plain.

Mrs. Henry S. Enck entertained informally at her home, 1056 W. Market-st., Thursday evening, inviting a number of friends to spend the evening with Mrs. Mamie Davis. To meet Miss Dorothy Stolzenbach and Miss Ruth Morris of Liberty, Ind., both students at the College of Music at Cincinnati. Miss Stolzenbach, who is the daughter of J. N. Stolzenbach, McBeth-apts, W. North-st., is a talented pianist and is a pupil of Adolf Hahn's for nine years. Prof. Hahn is the director of the college.

Miss Morris played several groups of delightful violin solos, with Miss Stolzenbach at the piano. Miss Morris and Miss Stolzenbach expect to do concert work during the summer and fall, prior to Miss Morris' departure for England next May. At the opening of the opera season, Mrs. C. S. Baxter sang a number of songs and vocal solos were also given by Dale Marshall. Miss Stolzenbach played a group of piano solos.

A buffet luncheon was served at the close of the musicale. Mrs. Enck was assisted by Mrs. Harry Macdonald and Miss Stolzenbach.

Mrs. Glenn Woodruff held high score in the bridge games Thursday evening when Miss Margaret Graham, Lakewood-av., entertained the members of the Thursday Evening Bridge club. Following play, the hostess served a two-course luncheon, assisted by Miss Gertrude Boose.

Mrs. William Bradley of Minneapolis, Minn., was an only guest. The club will meet in two weeks with Miss Josephine Garretson, S. McDonald-st.

Among the pre-nuptial affairs to be given for Miss Cecelia O'Connor, bride-to-be of Lawrence J. Voss of Detroit, will be the dinner at the Hotel Barr, Tuesday evening, May 13, at which members of the Inter-Lake Bridge club will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kominski entertained informally at their home, 315 S. Cole-st., at a seven o'clock supper Thursday evening. Following supper, bridge was enjoyed. Guests numbered fourteen intimate friends of the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hotchkiss, Richin-av, have as their guest, Mrs. Hotchkiss' brother, Ed Hutton of Bellingham, Wash.

Mrs. Lester Thomas of Chicago, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Macaffey, W. Elm-st.

Mrs. George Schornhorn entertained the members of the N. W. club at a one o'clock luncheon at her home, 314 Lincoln-av., Friday. Following luncheon, an informal discussion of the coming elections took place. Mrs. Harry Thomas, president of the club, led in the discussion.

Guests were Mrs. F. D. Bradley and Mrs. Herbert Moore of Detroit, the daughter of the hostess.

Miss Ruth Basden, formerly of this city, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Basden, 347 S. Charles-st. Miss Basden, who is soloist in Arthur Pryor's great band which plays at the different winter resorts in Florida, is considered one of the country's leading soloists. She will give a soprano solo at the morning service at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold King are the guests of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Abner Jones and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. King. Mr. and Mrs. King expect to leave May 18 for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Ernest Anderson, Hazel-av, entertained the members of the New Stitch club at her home, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. J. Driesch was the assistant hostess. During the afternoon, needlework was enjoyed and in the contest held, Mrs. Orelle Ebling and Mrs. Harry Anschutz were successful. A two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. C. E. Taftinger, Hazel-av.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Conner, W. High-st., have returned from Delaware, where they spent several days with their daughter, Mrs. Walter Yellow and family.

Members of the CeCire club met at the Hotel Barr for luncheon at one o'clock, Thursday, complimenting Mrs. Walter E. Milner, one of the club members whose birthday was on that day. Mrs. Milner was presented an attractive gift by her friends.

Following luncheon, election of officers was held. Mrs. Harold Fowler was named president and Mrs. John Davis, secretary. A short program was given.

This was the final gathering of the year.

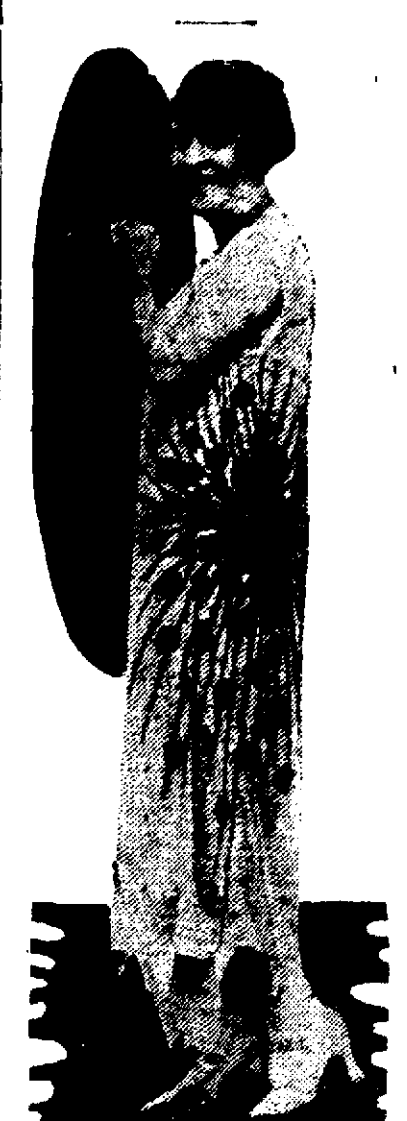

Miss Elizabeth Green, Gartfield-av, has returned from a several days stay in Oxford, where she was the guest of her sister, Miss Margery, a student at the Western College for Women.

Mrs. Victor S. Powell opened her home in the Janus-av, Thursday afternoon, to the members of her luncheon-bridge club. Following luncheon at one o'clock, two tables were filled for the card games. Miss Helen McGinnis held high score at the close of play.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Francis Clark, W. North-st.

James Backus, a student at the University of Michigan, is spending the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Backus, W. Spring-st. Richard Blund, a classmate at the university, is his guest.

WHITE CREPE FROCK

The tendency of the smart designers to concentrate the trimming to one particular point is here justified. This white crepe frock is beaded all over in iridescent beads, but at the side closing a splashy pattern of black beads is overlaid.

Mrs. Harry E. Goldsberry, S. Charles-st., will welcome the members of the N. H. B. O. club at her home, Friday evening.

Mrs. Cora Helman, N. Main-st., leaves Friday evening to spend several days with relatives and friends in Springfield.

Miss Helen Hunter, W. North-st., returned from Danbury on Thursday, after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mauk.

"Garden Night" was observed at the meeting of the Art Study club Thursday evening at the Hotel Barr, with Mrs. Phil M. Crow and Mrs. E. P. Stafford as hostesses. The paper of the evening was "Paints of the Garden" given by Mrs. John W. Roby. A social hour followed the program. The club will meet with Mrs. H. H. Harper, Jr., W. High-st., in a month.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Burke, of 612 Atlantic-av., announce the birth of a daughter Wednesday at St. Rita's hospital.

WESTERN COAST BOASTS OF FEW THUNDER STORMS

SAN FRANCISCO — A strip of the Pacific Coast between British Columbia and Lower California, taking in the cities of Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, has fewer thunder storms than any other section of the United States, according to officials of the Weather Bureau. E. A. Beals, United States meteorologist here, pointed out that the reason for this, roughly speaking, is that the rains along the coast come mostly in winter, when atmospheric conditions are less favorable for the generation of electricity. The thunder storms of the interior states and along the Atlantic coast happen largely in spring and summer, he explained, when there are warm rains.

RUSS EMIGRANTS BACK
RIGA, Russia. — Hundreds of Russians who emigrated to Australia and the Americas before the war are returning to their native country to re-establish themselves in trades they learned in foreign countries. One group that went out to Australia has applied for permission to return to Russia to develop sheep-breeding.

If you give a dinner, whether it be a great one of 200 covers or a small one of six, you should invite only those people who are congenial to one another. And your drawing room should be adequate in size to the number of guests.

LUNG EXERCISES
MANSFIELD, England. — Breathing exercises for children would cure most human ills, declares Dr. J. E. Wilson, famous health expert. Special lung exercises easily may cause an infant of two weigh as much as many children of five or six, he says.

MIMIC INDIAN BATTLES REQUIRED DRASTIC ACTION

SHERIDAN, Wyo. — Dr. William Frackelton of this city, who produced the first "Powder River frontier days" and originated the annual "stampede" here, and has been "adopted" by the Crow Indians, tells of the first reproduction of the Custer massacre ever staged.

The part of the Sioux Indians was played by 200 Crows, and local national guard troops were Custer's men. In the midst of the mimic battle Blue Head, one of the Indians, insisted on capturing the American flag. This was not in the rehearsal, and immediately the "dead" troopers rose and returned to action. Blue Head was shot from behind with the wadding from a blank cartridge. A battle royal ensued. As Dr. Frackelton expressed it, "Custer was soon avenged."

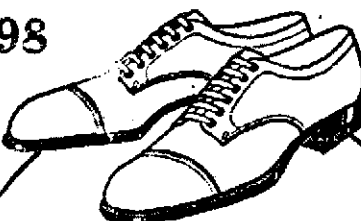

NEW YORK — Instead of dumping excess liquor overboard at the 12-mile limit, Captain Felix Muraw of the French liner Paris, treats all the second and third-class passengers on the ship. Thus, he says, he disposed of 500 liters of wine, cordials and beer at the end of the last voyage.

HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

by RUDY AYRES
ONIA SERVICE

"She had worked herself into a thoroughly bad temper by the time she got to London. It was raining, little and hard rain. She took a taxi the whole way home, and kept the man waiting while she went into the house and demanded the fare from Monty.

He had just finished his dinner, and rose from the table, smiling with pleasure at sight of her.

"Well, dear?" He genuinely loved and admired his sister. He bent to kiss her, but she turned him a cool cheek.

"Have you any money? The taxi man is waiting."

"His hand went at once to his pocket.

"How much?"

She told him, and was quick to notice his frown.

"It was raining, and I hate rain," she complained petulantly.

"You might have taken the tube half way; you know we really can't afford to have taxis everywhere."

"Don't be so mean!" She took the money without a word of thanks, and gave it to the maid, then she came back, tossing her hat and gloves on to the sofa.

"I suppose the dinner isn't fit to eat, and I'm so hungry."

"I didn't expect you or I would have kept it back. Tell the maid to bring you something. I thought you might not be home till the last train. I should have come to Euston to meet it."

"They didn't ask me to stay, and I'm sure I didn't want to."

"Did you see David?"

"Yes; he seems engrossed with Nigel's wife; they'd been out in the car together all the afternoon. I don't know what in the world you meant by calling her pretty."

"I think she is—or was—in a common sort of style."

"She's not—not in any sort of style! Pasty-faced thing."

Monty laughed.

"Don't be a cat, old girl; you're too good-looking yourself to grudge anyone else a small share."

"Well, I hate her—I hate the way she's got in with David and Miss Varney. I hate her ways—oh—"

Monty lit a cigarette. He knew his sister very well indeed in this mood, and always took refuge in silence.

Dora broke out again suddenly.

"I thought you said she had red-brown hair?"

"So she had. Has she changed the color then, or what?"

"She! She'd never trouble enough about herself to want to change the color. It's just ordinary mouse-brown."

"Humph! Then she has changed it, or else it can't be the right girl you saw," he chaffed her.

"Don't be such an idiot!"

She dropped into a chair, turning her back to him. As a rule she was quite good-tempered, but the afternoon had thoroughly upset her.

Monty smoked on imperturbably. Once he ventured to whistle a snatch of song. Dora rounded on him instantly.

"Oh, do shut up! A lot you care what happens to me! A lot you care if I'm happy or miserable!" She began to cry shallowly.

Tears of sheer temper they were, but Monty thought she was really unhappy. He was sufficiently fond of David Bretherton himself to believe that he was the type of man a woman would adore. He came round to where Dora sat with her face hidden in a lace handkerchief, and put his arm round her shoulders.

"My dear girl, don't! I hate to see you so upset! What in the world has happened? Can I help at all? You know I'd do anything in my power."

She pushed him impatiently aside.

"Oh, leave me alone!"

"You ought to have persuaded David not to have that wife of Nigel's down there; you ought to have guessed what would happen. She's just worming her way in with everybody, and already they are beginning to wonder how they managed before she came."

"My dear child, isn't that just what I did try to do? Didn't I tell David? Didn't I do everything in my power?"

"You ought to have insisted that some other arrangement was made."

"Now you're talking sheer rubbish! I'm not David's keeper. Surely he has a right to please himself?"

Dora began to cry again, but this time Monty was unmoved. He had had enough of it. He got up and walked out of the room.

CHAPTER XXXV
Time, the Healer

When David got back to the Red Grange he found Miss Varney alone in the drawing-room. She noticed the quick way in which his eyes roamed round the room as if in search of someone else.

"Where's Mary?" he asked abruptly.

"I really don't know, dear; she was here a moment ago."

Mary had slipped away when she heard the sound of the car in the drive; she did not feel as if she could face David again just then. Whenever she thought of her own impulsive words she felt as if her whole body were blushing.

What must he have thought of her? What moment of madness had made her say such a thing?

She had loved Nigel—and David was Nigel's brother.

But, though as yet she did not realize it, it was strange how lately Nigel had begun to fade into the background of memory. She would have indignantly denied it had anyone told her that it was so, but the fact remained, nevertheless.

Perhaps she had never loved him as deeply as it was in her nature to love; but he had been her one and only romance, and the tragedy of his death had lent halo of beauty to his whole life.

Married to him, she would always have adored him, but in spite of herself her whole feeling towards him had unconsciously changed since his marriage.

Even to the broken-hearted, Time is a wonderful healer, and there is no truer saying of all the many penned by the immortal bard than that "Men have died, and worms have eaten them, but not for love."

And Mary was still young. She was beginning already to lose the wan, careworn look that had thinned her face when she first came to Red Grange. The quiet, healthy life, free from trouble, had done wonders for her; she slept well and dreamlessly, and woke full of energy, looking forward with almost childish anticipation to the simple events of the day.

Learning to drive David's car had given her tremendous pleasure; it was something so different from anything she had ever experienced—something so exciting.

David was speaking of the car when, a little later, she came into the room.

"Dora only just caught her train. The engine was running badly; it would hardly take Deacon's Hill at all—"

He swung round sharply at the soft sound of the opening door.

Mary did not look at him as she came forward, but was painfully conscious of her quick heart-beats and flushing cheeks.

She sat down beside Miss Varney, and took up a book.

"Well, are you ready for another lesson in the morning?" David asked her.

He was determined that somehow she should be made to look at him, and speak to him; he wanted to meet her eyes again, but Mary did not raise them.

"I think it will be wet tomorrow," she said.

He laughed.

"What difference can that make? There is a hood to the car. And it was raining yesterday when we went out."

"Was it?" She felt strained and unnatural with him; she wished he would go away or sit down. He looked so tall and overpowering as he stood there, and she was so painfully conscious of his gaze bent upon her.

Suddenly:

"Miss Fisher wants you to go and stay with her in town," he said deliberately.

The words had the desired effect. Mary raised her eyes to his at once.

"Oh, I couldn't! I don't want to be rude, but I'd so much rather not."

"You don't like her?"

She flushed.

"Oh, it's not that. I think she's simply beautiful, but—oh, I'm such a bad one at making new friends."

"You made friends with us easily enough, my dear," said Miss Varney affectionately.

Mary could think of no reply. The book had fallen from her knees; she stooped and groped after it at the same moment in which David bent to pick it up for her, and their hands touched.

Mary drew hers away sharply, and there was a little additional color in David's face as he laid the book down on her lap.

The silence was unbroken save for the click, click of Miss Varney's knitting needles.

"I am going to show you over the old part of the house after dinner," David said suddenly. "You said you would like to see it, and there is a moon tonight."

She looked up, interestedly.

"What has that got to do with it?"

"Everything. The old wing looks only its best by moonlight."

"Oh!"

"And the ghost always walks by moonlight," said Miss Varney.

Mary clasped her hands rather tightly in the lap of her frock.

"Perhaps we shall see her, then," she said, with forced lightness.

Miss Varney shook her head.

"In my opinion she never existed, my dear. I've never seen her, and I very much doubt if anyone else has. Dear me, not dinner already?"

Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, check that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with eyes increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.

S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that baby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

An Intimate Story of Inmost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

NOTE LEFT FOR MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT BY MRS. LESLIE PRESCOTT

DEAR MOTHER:

I hope you won't think I am impolite, running away from you in this way, but you know I haven't seen my own mother for months, and it is over a year since I laid eyes on my little sister—little sister who is now grown up and is coming home to be married.

I shall only be gone a few days, and then we will have the time of our lives going around to the antique shops and looking about on the lovely old pieces of mabogony that I have picked up, in my own home.

I have left little Jack to comfort and entertain you, and I am sure you will enjoy him every minute, but if you get tired of him, you'll have your little apartment to go to where I know Miss Anderson will make you perfectly comfortable.

I have told Jack to take you to the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday. The Reverend Hinton is a very eloquent man, and I know you will enjoy him. The choir is the best in the city.

You must let Miss Anderson tell Jack if there is anything that you want to do while I am gone. I know that he will put the car at your disposal or take you himself for a drive every day. He is very busy, however, because you know he has been out of town for a couple of weeks, so you must excuse him, dear, if you do not see as much of him as you would otherwise.

Of course, I am all curiosity and excitement at the thought of seeing my own people, but I'll try and take time enough, mother dear, to write you a little note while I am with them.

My friend, Ruth Ellington, will be back tomorrow, and she has promised me to come over and see you. I am sure you will like her, mother dear. She is one of the best women I have ever known. She had rather a sorrowful life, but I hope her future will be more pleasant.

I remember very well that when I was at your home you expressed a desire for a new car, and remarked that it was almost impossible to get such an old-fashioned thing now-a-days, when grandmothers wear one-piece bathing suits instead. I told my friend, Ruth Ellington, who has a delightful lingerie shop what you said, and it struck her funny bone. She determined that you should have not only one, but two or three more, and she has made you some lovely ones—one with black lace with that silver roses, which will look exquisite on your soft, white hair; and one of white lace with cunning little black velvet decorations, and last, but not least, a perfectly beautiful one of white thread lace with tiny pink rosebuds.

You see, I remembered your lovely complexion—that complexion that I described to Jack, and which made him use "Keep that school-girl complexion from youth to age" in one of his advertisements. He made an awful lot of money from the contract, mother dear, and you should make him pay you a commission of a beautiful lace wrap with some elegant turs. I'll see that you have them when I return.

Regards to Miss Anderson, Lovingly, LESLIE

Immigration Problem to be Tackled at World Parley

CONFERENCE OPENS MAY 15

40 Nations Expected to be Represented at Rome

ROME—(United Press)—Over forty states are expected to be represented here May 15, when the International Emigration Conference, summoned by Premier Mussolini of Italy, is scheduled to assemble. The conference will make an effort to place on an international basis the entire problem of emigration and immigration.

According to delegates the question, as a result of the restrictive measures enacted since war, especially by the United States and the South American republics, has become one of the most important economic ones facing the entire world. Also the conference is intended to be purely a technical one, far-seeing delegates declare that it will be impossible to keep the political and diplomatic aspect from bobbing up.

It is regarded certain, for example, that Japan will not overlook any opportunity during the conference to assert her claims for racial equality and to secure rulings and decisions against all emigration lines that have been drawn against her.

JAPAN TO BE ACTIVE
While any such rulings or decisions which the conference may take will in no sense of the word be binding on any state, and will be merely in the nature of recommendations for the various states to adopt, nevertheless it is conceded that Japan will be in a position to secure more favorable action before a conference of experts where only the technical side of the problem is to be considered than before an international conference where the political and diplomatic aspect of the problem is to be settled.

That virtually all of the nations of the world have recognized the seriousness of the emigration problem as an international economic factor is indicated by the number of nations that accepted Mussolini's invitation to attend the conference. The United States, Argentina, Brazil and other nations who were the first to enact restrictive immigration measures, thereby precipitating the international crisis on the subject, were amongst the first to accept Mussolini's invitation.

Since then all of the nations that are more interested in the getting rid of their surplus population than in the question of receiving the latter have adhered to the conference.

As the result of preliminary conferences Italy will enter the conference with the solid support of Austria, Hungary, Serbia, Poland, Bulgaria, Slovakia and, in fact, all of the Central European states whose emigration problem, while not being as serious as that of Italy is, nevertheless, analogous.

Under the program that has been arranged for the conference absolute-

You can end this loathsome disease—if you will only try. Lots of things may prevent pyorrhea—Jo-Vex will banish it forever in a few short weeks.

If you want to make your soft, sore, bleeding gums firm, strong and healthy and tighten up loose teeth, get a six-ounce bottle of Jo-Vex today at Hunter's or Enterprise drug stores or any drugstore anywhere. In one week you will be joyfully surprised—it hasn't failed yet—in your case it may be the exception to the rule—if it is, get your money back, adv.

ly no question will be dealt with which would come ordinarily purely under the domestic legislation of any state.

INTERNATIONAL BASES
Instead, an effort will be made to take up only the international aspect of the problem and find some basis whereby the emigration and the immigration interests of all the countries represented can be harmonized. An effort will be made to put the whole problem on an international basis that will render it possible for those countries that have emigrants to place to meet the needs of those countries that are in the market for certain classes of immigrants.

To attain this end the conference hopes to arrive at certain recommendations which may later be embodied in an international agreement to be drawn up and signed at an international emigration conference summoned for that purpose, or at least in individual conventions between various states, the latter all being made as uniform as possible. The conference is expected to last at least a month.

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash children's hair be careful what you use. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Multisided coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last for months.

"It's Easy to Clean with AB-SO-REEN"

That's why Absorene excels as a Cleaner of Wall Paper, Calcimine, Flat Paint, Frescoing and Window Shades. It don't drag or cling in use—instead, it absorbs dirt as a sponge absorbs water.

It disinfects as it cleans, since it contains a very powerful disinfectant and germicide.

Scientifically made, so it will not streak or grease the surface—will remove every particle of dirt in one stroke not merely surface dust.

—Makes no dirt in use —Never soggy —Never sticky —Does not smear —Not poisonous
—Doesn't stain the hands

HOSPITAL DAY TO BE HELD HERE

St. Rita's Plans Open House, Baby Show on May 12

MOVEMENT NATIONAL ONE

Campaign Planned to Get Funds for Maternity Department

Further plans for the celebration of National Hospital Day at St. Rita's hospital on Monday, May 12, were made Friday by Mrs. Ora M. Green, chairman of the publicity committee. St. Rita's is one of the 5,000 hospitals in the country that will observe the day.

On that date the local hospital will hold open house to the public for an inspection and an insight into the work done by the institution. A baby show, between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. and 7 and 8 p. m. is one of the features of the program, part of which has already been prepared. All babies born in the hospital since its inception in the baby show, according to the announcement. This number aggregates nearly 600, hospital officials say. To the youngest and oldest of these babies in attendance Monday prizes will be awarded.

FUND DRIVE PLANNED
Simultaneous with the celebration of Hospital Day, St. Rita's hospital hopes to successfully inaugurate a movement, having as its object the building up of an ever-increasing number of future supporters of the institution and at the same time to provide a fund to carry on the free service in its maternity department for those who are unable to pay.

Organization of a babies' alumni of St. Rita's hospital is also being planned. All babies born in the hospital will be eligible to membership. Each baby will be sent a birthday card on its birthday, together with a reminder slip requesting the renewal of the membership. The hospital hopes in this way to keep up the interest of the parent and thru them that of the babies as they arrive at the years of understanding in the charitable work of the hospital. This movement will be formally announced on National Hospital Day.

DOHENY IS CALLED IN OIL QUIZ

Justice Hilt Orders Magnate's Son to Appear May 16

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Edward L. Doheny Jr., District of Columbia supreme court, to appear on May 16, to show cause why he should not be compelled to testify before the special oil grand jury.

When Doheny appeared before the jury last Tuesday he declined to testify on the ground that what he would say might tend to incriminate him. This fact was reported to the court by the grand jury with a request that the order be issued.

The jury's report to the court detailed what transpired in the grand jury room during the eight minutes that Doheny was present. He was asked this question by Owen J. Roberts, of special government oil counsel:

"Will you tell us about transactions you had with Albert Fall on or about November 30, 1921?"

The reference was to testimony given before the senate oil committee regarding the delivery by Doheny of $100,000 in cash to the then secretary of the interior. This testimony was given by D. L. Doheny, Sr., who holds the lease to the Elk Hill naval reserve in California.

"I am sorry, sir," young Doheny replied to Roberts' question, "but I came before this committee in answer to a subpoena in a proceeding in which it is or may be alleged that my father or myself or a company in which we are interested may be made defendants. Neither my father nor myself nor the company in which we are interested have been guilty of any wrong-doing or transgression against the law. My father has made such statements which have been made the basis of certain charges against him.

"While I assert that nothing which I might say would be evidence of any wrong doing on my part, I realize that any testimony that I might give or any testimony I might give, might be used against me. I am, therefore, desirous to answer that question on the advice of my attorney, on the ground that what I would say might tend to incriminate me. With all due respect to the jury and to the counsel for the government, I state my privilege against self-incrimination.

After Justice Hilt made his ruling today the grand jury retired to its room and heard one witness, Harvey M. Wilcox of El Paso, Texas, before adjourning until Tuesday.

MOTHER BANQUET IS SUCCESS

More Than 200 Present Thursday Night at Y. M. C. A.

More than 20 mothers and daughters attended the annual mother and daughter banquet of the Girl Reserves department of the Y. W. C. A. in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Thursday night, Miss Marguerite Creamer, one of the Y. W. C. A. announced Friday morning.

The gymnasium was brilliantly decorated with blue and white, the colors of the Blue Triangle club. Blue programs with a bronze seal of "mother" were at each plate. Talks were given by Miss Creamer, Frances Deets, president of the South Blue Triangle club, Mrs. E. T. Fenwick, Gae Morton, president of the Central Blue Triangle club, Mrs. Kamerer and Miss Gertrude Payne. Bernice Rosenbaum, a member of the Central Blue Triangle club and one of the winners of the Elstadoff held here recently, sang a solo. Madeline Lengel, of the South club, played a violin selection. Guests were Rev. and Mrs. Howard, Miss Gertrude Payne, of Toledo, T. P. Pearson, Y. M. C. A. general secretary, Mrs. Julia Simpson, of the Y. W. C. A. and members of the Girl Reserves committee and the Y. W. C. A. board.

RIGHTS VOTED TO WOMEN

Permitted to Become Pastors in Methodist Church

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — (Associated Press) — The ordination of women as local pastors in the Methodist ministry was approved by the Methodist Episcopal general conference today by a decisive majority. Their admission to the itinerancy and to the membership in the annual conferences was almost unanimously defeated.

It was a partial victory for the feminist element for women never have been before granted ordination with its concurrent right to administer the sacraments, altho since 1920 they have been entitled to temporary settlement as local pastors. A liberal bloc held that women should be given all rights and privileges of men, but their substitute to the report of the special commission on ordination and conference membership was snowed under.

The pending unification of the north and south churches, ratified by the general conference Wednesday would be imperilled if a change in the annual conference membership was adopted, it was argued by R. J. Lockwood of Ohio. Mrs. Mary M. Northrup, of Pasadena, Cal., field secretary of the Women's Foreign Missions Society, declared that the time was not ripe for admission of women to the annual conference.

"Women would have full ordination by the commission's plan and they should not be denied the privilege of administering the holy sacrament of baptism," said the Rev. W. F. Shaw of Peoria, Ill.

Marriage and motherhood as bars to women's itinerant and conference membership were stressed by Dr. Shaw and by Rev. George H. McGowan, of the Central Illinois delegation.

CLARK IS TAKEN TO COLUMBUS

Bandit Suspect Violated Conditions of Parole, Claim

WINDBIGLER ALSO REMOVED

Reports of Escape Attempt Without Foundation, Sheriff Says

James Clark, negro holdup man who recently escaped from city hospital where he was recovering from a revolver wound, was taken to Ohio state penitentiary as a parole violator Friday.

He was taken to jail in the hold of Deputy Sam Osborn. Clark was held to the grand jury in criminal court Wednesday, and taken to the county jail to await indictment.

County authorities immediately decided to turn him back to the penitentiary, as his parole from the institution has not expired. Clark was sentenced from Lima two years ago in connection with stealing an automobile.

Charges of holdups and grocery robberies preferred by the police will not be dropped. Prosecuting Attorney Lippert announced.

The alleged offenses will be sifted by the grand jury. If indictments are found, they will stand until expiration of Clark's term, and will then be pressed.

One reason for taking Clark to prison was that it was an easy way to dispose of his case, and to give him the benefit of hospitalization afforded in the penitentiary.

Rav Windbigler, former Pontiac III, inmate, was taken to prison in charge of Sheriff Crosson. The trip was made overland in an automobile.

LENIENCY PLANNED

Jesse "Froggie" Snyder, member of the grocery gang, was not taken to prison. A stay of execution has been obtained in his case to allow further investigation of his record. If only a workable record is shown the court may display leniency. Snyder is only 19, and would come out of prison in 1931 if compelled to serve the minimum term for robbery.

Reports of an attempted jail delivery plan by Snyder are highly exaggerated, according to a statement made by Sheriff Crosson Friday. He branded the entire story as a fabrication, with no basis of truth.

A patch of plaster has been off the wall in the northeast corner of the jail for more than six years. Jack Wolfe, one of the bandits, dug out a flask of mortar with his teaspoon. He was observed by George Washington C. Scott, negro evangelist.

Walls of the jail at the point are nearly three feet thick and made of heavy stone, anchored with iron bolts. Unless equipped with compressed air drills and explosives, Sheriff Crosson asserted, that no one could hammer a hole in the walls.

There is positively no way to smuggle tools into the jail, Crosson said, save thru the main door. Windows are double barred and covered with fine wire grating, thru which nothing larger than a pin could be passed.

Bars of the jail outside and in show attempts made to use saws in past years.

BASKETBALL TEAM IS BANQUETED

St. John's Stars Guests Thursday of Delphos K. of C.

DELPHOS - Basketball banquet was given to the players of St. John's High school at the Beckman House Thursday night by the K. of C. of this city. The affair was an elaborate one, many talks being given followed by a four course dinner in honor of the men.

Arnold Schmelzer, gymnasium instructor at the school, introduced the guest speaker, who delivered an address regarding the good work of the St. John's men in the game sport. He also emphasized the need of an athletic association in governing the activities of the local school and society, and that such an association be formed out of the local chapter of K. of C.

It was pointed out for the time and manager of last season, gave a talk expressing the appreciation of the season, and gave an explanation of it. He said that the men were to be necessary of having a coach for the coming season. He said that the men were to be necessary of having a coach for the coming season.

WHEELER TAKES WITNESS STAND

Montana Senator Denies Charges Set up in Indictment

WASHINGTON - Associated Press.—In the face of documentary evidence relied on by the department of justice to prove the charge brought against him in Montana, Senator Burton K. Wheeler today denied on the witness stand that he had been guilty of any wrongdoing in his relations to Montana oil land permits.

Appearing at his own request before the special senate committee investigating his indictment on charges of receiving money for practicing before the interior department, the Montana senator testified that although his law firm had handled business in the state courts for Gordon Campbell, the oil operator indicted with him, he never had performed the services charged in Washington.

Department of justice records, submitted to the committee just before the senator took the stand, included a large number of letters alleged to have passed between Wheeler, Campbell and others relating to oil land permits. One purported to have been sent by the senator after his election, asked Campbell to forward to Washington detailed data about the Campbell claims so that Wheeler could take them up intelligently with the interior department. Another said to have come from Campbell to Edwin S. Booth, former interior department solicitor, offered to give Booth and another department official forty acres of land each if certain permits were granted.

FISH FOR SWEETS
KELSO - Wash. - All sorts of makeshift nets and dippers are used by the hundreds of fishermen who line the banks of the Sandy River here daily to scoop up sweets. The sweets make their annual run from salt water to the headwaters of the Sandy in solid masses, often packing the shallow rapids. No other western river is known to contain these six inch fish.

FAST MAIL SERVICE OVER ATLANTIC OCEAN IS SEEN

NEW YORK - The moving of mail across the Atlantic by dirigible in less than two days' flying time was seen as a possibility today by those who heard of experiments with rigid airplanes as told by Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur at the annual dinner of the National Security League last night.

"From the success of the Shenandoah so far, and by trials of the ZR-7 which will be received from Germany next fall for commercial experiments," he said, "the navy hopes to show the practicability of a new means of transportation and communication."

The department is fully alive to the value of aviation in the navy and is opposed to any separation of its aviation from its direct control, the secretary said.

BY GENTLEMAN GILLMAN
 Harold Lloyd in his latest feature comedy, "Girl Shy" is the attraction at the Lyric theatre for six days. Lloyd is always a treat but in "Girl Shy" he has exceeded all former efforts in that he not only laughs and thrills but also appeals to the human intellect besides. This is more appeal than his former success "Grandma's Boy".

A really dramatic story has been built around this bashful small town boy who is an apprentice to his uncle a tailor, and who makes a career study of girls, although not a very accurate one, for the more he looks at them the more he fears them. Although he is terrified at their presence, he believes he knows them intimately and intends that the book he is writing about his imaginary life affairs will enlighten the rest of the masculine world.

He starts to the publishers with the manuscript and then his troubles begin. One humorous incident follows another in rapid succession from this point until the final fade-out.

The cast of "Girl Shy" includes Johnna Ralston, one of the loveliest actresses on the screen, who plays opposite Lloyd. She made a big hit in her initial appearance with the comedian in "Why Worry" and has been signed by Lloyd for a long time contract. Others in the cast are Richard Daniels and Carlton Henthoff.

In addition to the feature, the Lyric also has a Will Rogers comedy.

Sigma Has Dana Film

Viola Dana, whose appearance on a local screen is always looked forward to with interest, comes to the Sigma Saturday for a two day engagement in her newest Metro picture, "Don't Doubt Your Husband". It is said to be one of the best domestic dramas of the season—enterprising, swift and tense with original situations.

The story concerns a young couple who has been hitting all the bumps that can be found on the matrimonial road as it exists in a small town. The husband, who notices that his wife is more interested in the interior decorator's ankles than in the decorations and stirs up a storm of racy entertainment.

The cast includes Alan Forrest, Wilfred Bryson, John Patrick, Willard Louis, Adele Watson and Robert Dunbar.

Following "Don't Doubt Your Husband" comes the outstanding production of the year, "Scaramouche", which opens a six day engagement at the Sigma on Monday. It will be shown for the first time at popular prices.

"Scaramouche" is a Rex Ingram production for Metro adapted from Rafael Sabatini's novel of the same name. The story is laid in the time of the French revolution and tells of the adventures of a young noble who takes the side of the people.

Ramon Novarro, Lewis Stone and Alice Terry are the triumvirate that appeared in "The Prisoner of Zenda", head the cast of thirty principals.

RECEIVER ASKED

MANIE KUGELMAN
NEW MANAGER OF STAR CLOTHING CO.

MANIE KUGELMAN

Manie Kugelman, owner of the Star Clothing Company at 17 Public Square, announces an important change in the management of the local store by the promotion of his brother, Manie Kugelman, to the position of manager.

The new manager will assume his duties at once in his official capacity and when interviewed today announced that his policy would continue along the lines of those set up by his brother and in addition an extra effort made to do everything in his power to make the store's credit terms easier for the working people of Lima and vicinity.

Manie Kugelman has been associated with his brother in the credit business for some time, the past year of which has been spent in Lima at the local store.

At the Faurot

"Three Wise Fools," the John Golden attraction which met with unprecedented success both in New York and on the road, will be the offering of the Hawkins-Ball Co. next week at the Faurot.

The story centers around the lives of three old bachelors, who having lived in a so-called rut for years, receive news that they have been willed an orphan. Expecting a small boy, to their great surprise comes a girl of eighteen. The bearing of this girl has upon the life of the three men, forms one of the most absorbing stories ever put into play form.

There is a beautiful romance throughout the story between the nephew of one of the bachelors and the girl, which unfolds early in the play.

"Three Wise Fools" is a play with characters drawn true to life and there runs thru the plot a streak of wholesome comedy that keeps the audience happily entertained. The Hawkins-Ball players are said to be ideally cast in this production. Florence Lewin has the role of the adopted daughter and George White.

what will be seen on the nephew Hal Mordant will play the role which Claude Gilligwater enacted both in the stage production and film version.

At the Orpheum

"Seventy Dollars Worth" is the musical comedy offering for the last half of the week at the Orpheum theatre. It is a gasoline filling station romance and is filled to the brim with pleasing comedy situations.

Marshall Walker, composer and comedian, is seen in his favorite character role of a rural constable. Blanche Walker offers several pleasing musical numbers, answering many queries at Thursday performances.

A special ice cream matinee will be held Saturday afternoon for the children. Each boy and girl attending will receive an ice cream cone. The Marshall Walker players will offer "Why Women Sin" for the first half of next week starting with Sunday matinee.

FACTS TOLD; FATHER AND SON NOW REACH AGREEMENT

Long Standing Case Is Finally Ended

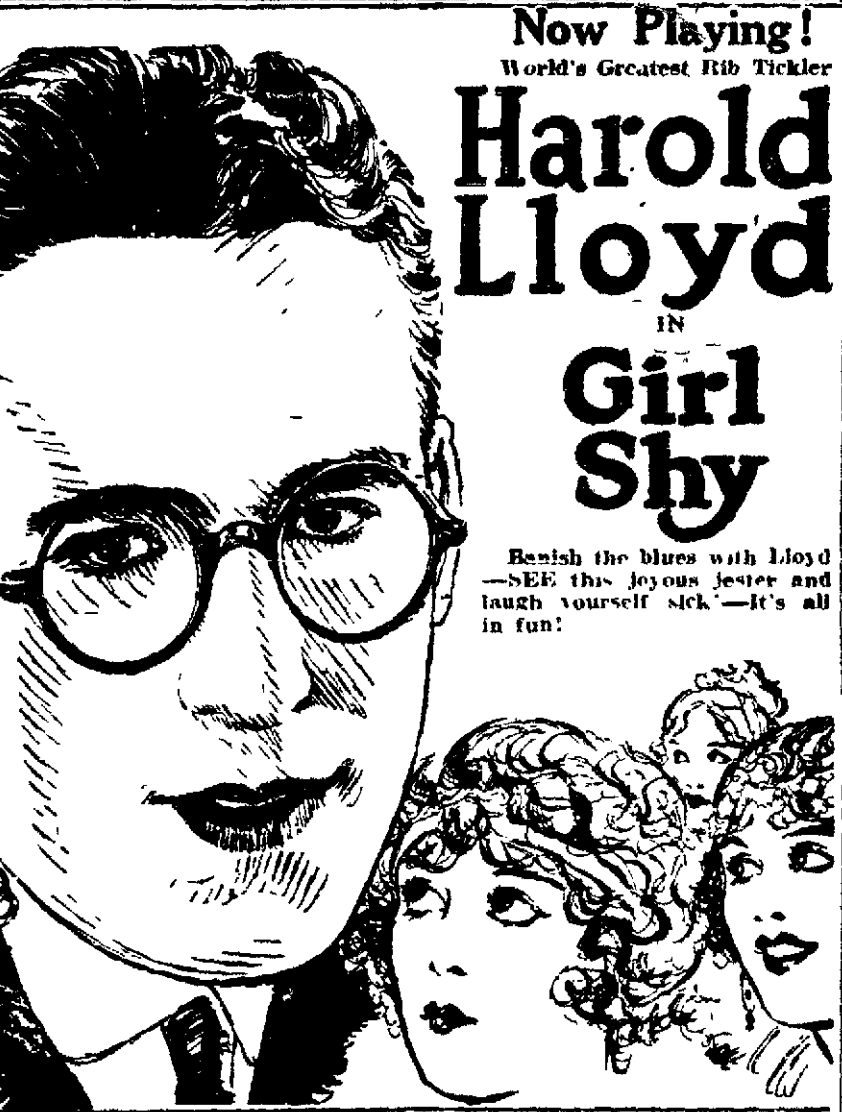

Mr. John Laiman, of 525 S. Elizabeth-st., and his son, Earl Laiman, of the same address, are now in thorough agreement about this medicine Pepsin that is being introduced at Hunter's Drug Store.

"I want to say," said Mr. Laiman recently, "my son Earl and I agree that Pepsin is a wonderful medicine. All winter I was in a run down, worn out state of health. The food I would lay in my stomach like a lump of lead. I would have a dull, heavy pain right across the top of my stomach. Often it would keep me awake for hours. This gas would give me uncomfortable belching spells. In the mornings I would have tired, worn out, don't care feeling. It was all I could do to get out of bed."

"My son Earl was also troubled with stomach trouble. He began taking Pepsin before I did. In a short time I saw it was helping him so I went down to Hunter's Drug Store on the Public Square and got a bottle."

"Pepsin helped me almost from the first dose. Before I had taken it three days I found myself eating

CHEVROLET
for Economical Transportation

1923 CHEVROLET TOURING — A late model car that can be depended upon to give dependable service for a long period of time. Presents appearance of new. Has cord tire equipment.

1923 CHEVROLET COUPE — If you are looking for an almost new coupe, at a price, this one should interest you. Its miles of driving has tended only to improve the smooth running mechanism.

1922 CHEVROLET SEDAN — This car has just been refinished and inspected in our shop. General appearance of car is excellent.

1922 CHEVROLET TOURING (FB) — Has been in the hands of only one owner and given the finest care mechanically. Well equipped; has four practically new cord tires.

1923 DURANT TOURING — We have placed a nominal price on this car for quick sale. Mechanically and in appearance this car will bear a most rigid demonstration and inspection.

Then You Have Something to Learn
Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.
Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.
Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Hunter's Drug Stores today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.
